THOMAS W. COOK DIES AT THE ALAMEDA HOSPITAL

TAXPAYERS WANT DALTON'S ASSESSMENT SUSTAINED

JAMES CROWHURST

Thomas W. Cook, the victim of a fatal assault, died of his injuries at the Alameda sanitarium this morning at 6:30 o'clock. The doctors persisting in keeping him in an unconscious condition with opiate allowed him to sink into the grave without uttering a word. It is believed that the story of the dead man he still has enough evidence to send the entire bunch of young thugs he now has in custody to State's prison for many years.

COOK'S STATEMENT.

While James Crowhurst, Percy Pembroke, John Schneider and George Blaker may not all have been engaged in the assault upon Cook, the two latter, Cook himself said, were two of his assailants, while Crowhurst, as a ringleader and a self-confessed robber, had much of the responsibility for the crime and the present unfortunate predicament of the others. All are youths not yet out of their teens and yet already see years of prison life stretching out before them and from which they will emerge aged and old without having lived the half of life.

THE CHARGE.

Just what charges will be placed against all of them has not yet been determined, and will only be decided upon after a conference has been had with District Attorney Allen and the partial confessions now in the hands of Sheriff Barnett have been carefully gone over to see how far they can be substantiated by outside evidence, for the law will not admit of a man being convicted upon his confession alone. While all have admitted their complicity in other crimes, they stoutly deny having had anything to do with the last and most brutal one in which they are guilty of another's blood.

CROWHURST TALKS.

After repeated questioning of them by Sheriff Barnett and Jailor White, Crowhurst broke down last evening and made the following statement about other offenses, still denying, however, that he is in any way responsible for the death of Cook.

"Of course you know, Sheriff, that I have been lying, but I now want to tell you the truth. I did hold up Ed Stanley, the barber, one night last winter. Percy Pembroke was with me in that job. I got two masquerade masks and gave Percy one and took one myself. We laid in wait at Fourteenth street and Twenty-fifth Avenue and stayed there until about 11 o'clock. We started to hold up two or three people, but finally went after Stanley. He came along and rattled some money in his pockets. After he got by us we followed him. We both had pistols and we walked fast until we got up beside him, when we pulled out our pistols and told him to throw up his hands. While I kept him covered Pembroke went through his pockets. He was so slow that I had to help him. After we got all that he had we told him to go without looking around, and we ran across lots and by many roads until we got to my house. We stood under a street lamp and counted up our cash and divided the money. I had got about $3 and Pembroke had Merchants Give Their Views on the Taxing of the Traction Company and Key Route Ferry and Railway Lines—Assessor's Figures are Declared Just and Moderate.

The note of popular indignation at the proposition to reduce the assessment of the Traction Company and the Key Route ferry and railway system grows in volume and intensity. The following communications from taxpayers show the drift of public opinion:

CORONER AGREES WITH ASSESSOR

DR. H. B. MEHRMANN SAYS HE HAS CONFIDENCE IN HENRY P. DALTON.

Editor TRIBUNE: I have confidence in the judgment of Assessor Henry P. Dalton, and believe the assessment of the Realty Syndicate is a fair one and should stand.

DR. H. B. MEHRMANN, Coroner.

ENGLISH QUOTES MATERIAL FIGURES

GIVES GOOD REASONS WHY ASSESSMENTS SHOULD NOT BE REDUCED.

Editor TRIBUNE: The Key Route and the Traction lines are assessed for $5,000,000. They are earning five per cent net on $18,000,000.

The facts speak for themselves. To reduce the assessment would be a wrong to every other taxpayer in the county. The assessment should not be reduced.

JOHN M. ENGLISH, 53 Eleventh street.

SAYS COMPANY IS NOT OVER-TAXED

FRED E. WHITNEY THINKS SYNDICATE SHOULD CONGRATULATE ITSELF.

Editor TRIBUNE: If it be true that the Realty Syndicate has an investment of $13,000,000 then the assessment of $5,000,000 is too low. The Supervisors, doubtless, under this showing, will not pay any attention to the application for a reduction of the figures of Henry P. Dalton. I think the people have confidence in his judgment and will not be satisfied if his figures are changed. Indeed, the Realty Syndicate should congratulate itself that it is getting off so lightly.

F. E. WHITNEY, Attorney-at-Law.

VETERINARIAN HAS VIEWS ON SUBJECT

DR. GEORGE J. DONNELLY DOES NOT BELIEVE IN FAVORING THE CORPORATIONS.

Editor TRIBUNE: I cannot understand how any sensible person can favor a reduction of the assessments of the Oakland Traction Consolidated and the Key Route system of the San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose Railway Company. I believe these corporations should be taxed the full valuation of their properties and if the Supervisors should take any action it should be to increase the assessments, as I believe that Assessor Dalton has been too lenient, if anything, with them.

In Piedmont, the Realty Syndicate is charging $40 a front foot for its property and selling it at that price. I see no reason why favoritism should be shown.

DR. GEO. J. DONNELLY, 1221 Harrison street, Piedmont.

BROMLEY WOULD UPHOLD ASSESSOR

WELL KNOWN REAL ESTATE MAN SAYS DALTON'S FIGURES ARE JUST.

Editor TRIBUNE: I believe that the assessments of County Assessor Dalton on the properties of the Oakland Traction Consolidated and the San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose Railway Company are just and should be sustained.

J. L. BROMLEY, 483 Twenty-eighth street.

DURYA SMITH IS FOR THE FIGURES

DOES NOT THINK THAT THE COMPANIES' ASSESSMENTS SHOULD BE REDUCED.

Editor TRIBUNE: The valuation of the street railway properties as fixed by Assessor Dalton would seem to be fair.

DU RAY SMITH, 426 Tenth street.

SAYS ASSESSMENT IS NOW TOO LOW

DANIEL J. MULLINS TELLS WHY FIGURES SHOULD NOT BE REDUCED.

Editor TRIBUNE: In my opinion, the figures of Assessor Dalton, regarding the assessments of the Oakland Traction Consolidated and the Key Route system, are, if anything, too low. If the assessments are not increased, they certainly should not be reduced. Such corporations should be made to pay their just proportion of the taxes.

DANIEL J. MULLINS, 1223 Fourteenth street.

WOULD NOT GIVE THE REDUCTION

CHARLES O. HENRY SAYS FIGURES OF DALTON SHOULD STAND.

Editor TRIBUNE: There should be no reduction of the assessment of the San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose Railway Company or the Oakland Traction Consolidated. I believe the figures of Assessor Dalton are fair and should not be reduced by the Board of Equalization.

CHARLES O. HENRY, 1221 Harrison street.

DECLARES FIGURES SHOULD STAND

W. ROBINSON WOULD NOT HAVE COUNTY BOARD REDUCE ASSESSMENTS.

Editor TRIBUNE—I believe that the assessment of the Oakland Traction Consolidated and the Key Route system of approximately $5,000,000, is just and that Assessor Dalton's figures should be sustained. It would be an injustice to other taxpayers to make any reduction.

W. ROBINSON, 1263 West street.

RAILWAYS MUST BE ASSESSED

L. WANGERIN THINKS COMPANIES SHOULD PAY JUST TAXES.

Editor TRIBUNE: It is my opinion that corporations should pay their just assessments, just as individuals are compelled to do. There should be no reduction of the assessments of the Oakland Traction Consolidated or the Key Route system.

L. WANGERIN, 472 Thirty-seventh street.

WOULD SUSTAIN ASSESSOR DALTON

GEORGE E. DARLING OF FRUITVALE SAYS ASSESSMENT IS PROPER.

Editor TRIBUNE—Assessor Dalton's valuation of the Key Route system and the Oakland Traction Consolidated seems to me to be just and equitable, and I believe his figures should be sustained by the County Board of Equalization.

GEO. E. DARLING, Fruitvale.

TODHUNTER WOULD NOT MAKE CHANGE

URGES SUPERVISORS TO STAND BY ASSESSOR DALTON'S FIGURES.

Editor TRIBUNE—Too much cannot be said against reducing the assessments of the Oakland Traction Consolidated and the San Francisco

Oakland and San Jose Railway Company. The assessment of $5,000,000 is about half the amount at which the properties should have been assessed. Any reduction would open the way for the State Board of Equalization to reduce the assessments of the entire county.

G. M. TODHUNTER, 520 Ninth street.

SHOULD STAND BY THE ASSESSOR

W. P. WILLIAMS IS IN FAVOR OF VALUATIONS MADE BY DALTON.

Editor TRIBUNE—I believe the Board of Equalization should stand by Assessor Henry P. Dalton in this matter. He has been fearless in his dealings with the corporations, and is certainly a friend to the small taxpayer.

W. P. WILLIAMS, 469 Ninth street.

FAVORITISM NOT FOR MARCOVICH

RESTAURANT KEEPER SAYS ASSESSOR DALTON HAS BEEN FAIR.

Editor TRIBUNE—No favoritism should be shown in taxing either corporations or individuals. Assessor Dalton seems to have been fair in his assessments of the Oakland Traction Consolidated and the San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose Railway Company. I believe he should be upheld by the Board of Equalization.

J. J. MARCOVICH, 515 Thirteenth street.

ATTORNEY SAYS: "NO REDUCTION"

F. J. BONNEY GIVES HIS VIEW ON THE STREET RAILROAD ASSESSMENTS.

Editor TRIBUNE—In my opinion, there should be no reduction of the assessments of the Oakland Traction Consolidated or the San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose Railway Company. Mr. Dalton's figures should be sustained because they are fair. Let corporations, as well as individuals, be justly assessed.

F. J. BONNEY, 568 Twenty-third street.

SAYS ASSESSMENT SHOULD BE RAISED

R. E. CARLTON DOES NOT BELIEVE IN FAVORING THE STREET RAILWAYS.

The yellow fever situation in the South is not so favorable today, high temperatures and heavy rains in New Orleans, the center of the infection, not only producing unfavorable climatic conditions, but undoing much that has been accomplished in the last twenty-four hours in the way of oiling gutters, cisterns and ponds, and making it necessary for this work to

All suburban service to coast towns was discontinued a week ago and almost daily the roads have been dropping one or more trains, until the service on most of the lines is at a minimum. There were no developments in the controversy over the alleged invasion of Louisiana by the Mississippi troops, guarding the frontier, except that announcement from Jackson that Governor Vardaman had decided to go personally to the scene and investigate the conditions for himself. PRINCIPAL POND'S INTERESTING VISIT TO TAHITI ISLAND

Head of Oakland High School Tells of His Trip—Some of the Customs of the Natives—Californians There—About the Schools.

James H. Pond, principal of the Oakland High School, has just returned from a most pleasant trip to the Tahiti Island.

In conversation with a TRIBUNE representative Principal Pond had the following to say about his trip:

"Wednesday morning, July 12th, Captain Lawless informed the passengers that about noon they would sight the coral islands of the Pomotus.

"These islands are atolls consisting of a coral reef including a bayou of several miles in diameter. The coral reef is about a foot in width and seven or eight feet in height, but thickly wooded with coconut trees and other tropical plants.

"At 1 p. m. we skirted the first of these atolls, named Rangiroa, but looking as carefully as we could we saw no signs of animal life. Everything was calm and tropical. The natives were all taking their afternoon siesta. A half hour later we passed the second of these coral islands, and in the early evening the third Maketa.

TAHITI SIGHTED.

"Tahiti was sighted early the next morning. The passengers were up before daylight and by 5 a. m. the dark outline of land could be seen to the southwest. The sky was overcast, rain threatened. The sun rose red, but later the clouds broke, and the glorious rays of gold light enveloped the island. The shadows and the light of the morning hour, the quiet blue of the water, the dark green of the foliage near the shore, the broken clouds, made the morn most beautiful.

"About 6:30 we picked up the pilot and steamed in through the opening in the coral reef to the harbor of Papeete. Within the coral reef the water was calm as could be conceived of. Deep down into its depths we could look, seeing the golden and the green, the silver and the striped fish.

By 8 o'clock we had sailed up to the wharf without any notable damage. We greeted the natives with Oski Wow! of the University of California and the Rahl! Rahl! Rahl! of Stanford, and received glad responses from the wharf. Professor Magee of the University of California and his wife were easily seen on the wharf, and waved a welcome to us in response to our noise. Our baggage was inspected by the officials rather carelessly, and by 8:30 we landed. We drove to the annex of the Tigre Hotel, Lavinas, where we selected our own rooms, and sat down upon our baggage to assure that we would retain the same.

NO MANAGEMENT.

"Business management at the hotel was absent. It was a case of first come first served, provided that who came first stayed until all the rest had located themselves to the best of their satisfaction. We breakfasted at 11 a. m. at Lavinas. The custom at Tahiti is to breakfast at 11 and to dine at six. Coffee is served from seven to eight in the morning, but the principal meal of the day is at 11 a. m. All stores are closed from 11 to 2. No business is transacted during those hours, the purpose of all is to eat and rest.

"In the evening at 9 p. m. we enjoyed our first Himerne, a native chorale. This singing by natives is one of the features of the island. World in a minor strain, the men and women in a chorus of from twenty to fifty voices, sing the native songs or adaptations of the 'Marsellaise,' or a Sousa's march or gospel hymns. Some foreigners have spoken of this music as the most beautiful music in the world. In my judgment it is very beautiful, but considering the condition of the natives in other respects, far more wonderful than beautiful, for the bass and the tenor, and even the counter tenor seem to harmonize most effectively, almost wailingly, with the alto or soprano of the female voices. We enjoyed the Himerne several evenings, and on one Sunday morning, when we attended the native Presbyterian church, the principal Himerne of that day being an adaptation of 'Bringing in the Sheaves.' Oh! it was wonderful to hear them sing. They love to sing. No piano or organ, no instrumental accompaniment. The leader either stands before them or sits in their midst, and they pour forth their souls without discord and with effect, running the verses up into the teens that they like, and only stopping to sing again if they are called upon.

FALL OF BASTILE.

The fete day, July 14, in celebration of the 'Fall of the Bastille,' was a success in point of noise, and in brilliancy of coloring, the boat races and the fireworks. Flags everywhere, brass bands for the French officials and the ton-ton of the natives beating time for them as they came from the outlying districts into town. The confetti in the morning was nearly a foot deep all over the Midway. The boat races of the afternoon consisted of sailing races, barge races and double canoe races. Of these the double canoe race was the most exciting, it being strictly a native race, and the outcome being nearly a tie. The celebration lasted for three days in strong movement, and the effects of the celebration were present as long as there was a native of the outlying districts still in Papeete.

"The Governor's ball was one of the features of this celebration, about eighty or a hundred of the French officials and natives being there.

"There is but one road around the island fringing the coast and encircling the island, which is of the shape of the figure eight. Drives on this road give one an excellent idea of the vegetation and geographical conditions of the island.

"The interior of the island is rugged and picturesque. Over 7,000 feet of sharp-pointed pinnacles stretch outward. Numerous streams flow down the canyons into the sea, many of them never dry. The water is pure and soft. For about a half mile from the ocean inland around the island the soil is loamy and exceedingly fertile, producing in profusion coconuts, bananas, figs, pineapples, bread-fruit and melons and vegetables of all kinds. The oranges are delicious. The juice from one and a half oranges would fill an ordinary tumbler. The limes are equally good, and the bananas are so luscious that it seems as though nothing could be better. The bananas and coconuts are ripe all the year round and other fruits ripen in season.

PROVISIONS PLENTIFUL.

"There is plenty for the natives to eat and drink at any time of the year for the mere plucking.

"For meat the fish that can easily be caught is excellent. The meat is brought from New Zealand, excepting the flesh of pigs. Every native household seems to be incomplete without a pig. Of course all meat ready for market is sent right into the tochoose, there being but one for the city of Papeete.

"In appearance the natives are large in height and in flesh. Most of them weigh from 180 to 220 pounds and some weigh over 300. They average, I should say, about six feet in height. Their bones are very large, making their ankles and feet huge and their wrists and hands large. Their native costume is a pareu and sometimes an undershirt for the men and a Mother Hubbard for the women. They are dark in color, mahogany shade, with clean skin and clean hair, and generally speaking, clean homes. Their eyes are very expressive—expressive of kindness and courtesy and gentleness. They are not savage nor barbarous, but are childlike and good. Contact with Europeans has spoiled many in Papeete. The opinion of the foreigner from the viewpoint of Papeete might be that they were dirty and lazy. But to me, and to all who go even part way around the island, it will be evident that the native when unmolested is honest and true and innocent. There is something of the simplicity of the babe about them.

THE SCHOOLS.

"Of course I made inquiries with reference to the schools while I was there, and although it was vacation I was fortunate enough to meet Professor Vernier, who was in charge of the boys' school, supported by the Presbyterian Society of France. Co-education does not exist in the island. The boys are taught reading, French, writing and arithmetic and grammar and history, especially of France, in one building, and the girls are taught some of these things in another building. The schools are free, the largest and most prosperous school being the Protestant Mission School, the building of which I entered and the classroom I examined. The boys usually stay at school, I was informed, about five years, and are generally docile, but not studious. The girls stay a little longer.

"The Government School has been very poor, but of late efforts have been made to improve it, so that in time it may take the place of the Mission school started by the Protestant and Catholic churches.

"Most of the natives are religious. About nine-tenths are Protestants, the rest being Catholics. A few are Mormons.

MORMONS THERE.

"I had the pleasure of meeting a Mormon preacher and teacher as I was returning from the island, and his statement of the religious zeal in the natives was very interesting. He said that polygamy is not taught by the Mormon Church there at the present time.

"I attended mass at the Catholic Church Sunday morning and found a full church, also the services of the Presbyterian Church later in the morning and found a crowded church. The services in the Presbyterian Church were entered into with great zeal by the natives, especially the singing and playing, but they listened attentively to the minister during his entire sermon of nearly an hour in length.

THE CLIMATE.

"At no time, I think, while we were on the island did the thermometer reach more than ninety degrees, and I doubt at any time did it read less than seventy-five degrees. About noon a gentle breeze moved inland from the ocean. The temperature of this wind was about the same as the water from the ocean, which was from eighty to eighty-six degrees. The humidity of the air was high, for exercise then, even the slightest, was accompanied by profuse perspiration. However, the natives in their native dances were willing to garb themselves in the costume of the Europeans and dance until they could stand no more. During the fete the women did not dance. They were given in contest by teams of men. The time and the muscle movements were remarkable for the accuracy and their force.

"One of the most beautiful drives that can be taken is the drive to Point Venus. Here there is a lighthouse which shines far over the sea, and which we saw in the early morn before we arrived at Tahiti. Here also is the memorial stone of Captain Cook of ancient fame, who is supposed to have made the first observations ever made on that island, of the transit of Venus. The lighthouse is about ninety feet in height and its foundation is but a few feet above the sea level of the ocean. Point Venus is about five miles, or as distance is measured on the island, about eight kilometers from Papeete. On the way to the point we passed Pomare Tomb, beautifully located on the left of the road by the sea, just on the edge of a coconut grove. Pomare was the last of the native kings.

"The question of the pronunciation of Tahiti was and still is an interesting one to the foreigner. Authorities differ as to whether the 't' of the second syllable should be long or should be pronounced as 'e.' The Europeans and the general inhabitants of Papeete generally pronounce it Tahiti, but I was informed by several cultured people of the island that the native pronunciation is Taheite.

NATIVE OWNERS.

"The land is generally owned by the natives, although near Papeete there are several large and finely cared for plantations owned by Europeans. Land is not taxed, therefore there are no paupers, but land may be mortgaged, and it will not be long before the Europeans own much more of the land than they now do.

"The question may be asked whether the natives care for wealth or not. They seem to say, of what use is wealth, when we have plenty. They may work two hours today, but if they wish to stop at any time of what use is this work when they have enough to eat and drink, and need not a bed to sleep. No covering is needed by night, no covering is needed by day, unless maybe it rains, and even the rain bothers them as little as the ocean. They love to bathe whenever they are warm, and they love to bathe when it is cold for the atmosphere of the ocean is always just right.

WATER SUPPLY.

"Oaklanders might be interested in the question of the water supply of Papeete. The water is obtained from a reservoir built high up in the mountains. The supply is inexhaustible. No meters are used, and no one seems to care whether there be waste or not. If you want water today use it today for all purposes for you may need it. Irrigation is hardly necessary for it rains often, and yet, if the native wishes to water his potted roses in Papeete there is no meter registering the drops that pass. Soft, cold, pure—such is the water right from the mountains.

"The hats worn by the women of Tahiti are made generally by the natives themselves, and are made from the leaves of native plants. They are something of the shape of our sailor hats.

"The men wear their hair as we do, while the women wear their hair in a long braid down their back. They use a great deal of coconut oil to give it a gloss, which really spoils its appearance for the foreigners.

"The five hundred officials and their families are supported by a poll-tax, each native being taxed $9.00 per year."

EMMON TAYLOR SUDDENLY DIES

TAXPAYERS WANT DALTON SUSTAINED

there not be a reduction of the assessments of the street railways, but, on the contrary, they should be raised if any action is taken by the equalizers. I believe the Assessor should be sustained. R. E. CARLTON. 864 Oak street.

WOULD SUSTAIN ASSESSOR DALTON

A. BLUMENTHAL GIVES HIS REASONS FOR NOT REDUCING STREET RAILWAYS.

Editor TRIBUNE—Anybody knows that corporations generally are not assessed for what they should be, and the Key Route Ferry Company and the Oakland Traction Consolidated are probably in the same boat. If they can earn a profit on $18,000,000 a $5,000,000 assessment is little enough.

I think Assessor Dalton is the best Assessor we ever had, and I believe his figures should be sustained, for I think he is trying to do what is right. A. BLUMENTHAL. 1051 Washington street.

NOT ASSESSED FOR THEIR FULL VALUE

C. J. LARSEN THINKS THE STREET RAILWAY LINES ARE IN LUCK.

Editor TRIBUNE—I think Assessor Henry P. Dalton knows his business. He has been very fair with me, and I think his action should have the confidence of the people. The street railways of this city are assessed for little enough. C. J. LARSEN. 487 Tenth street.

DOES NOT LIKE THE COMPANIES' 'HOWL'

J. F. LEMON WOULD NOT FAVOR RICH AT EXPENSE OF THE POOR.

Editor TRIBUNE—I am used to hearing corporations howl at Assessor Dalton, but I've always found that he treated the people about right. The complaint that he has over-assessed the street railways, is merely a howl because he has not favored the rich at the expense of the poor. J. F. LEMON. 1168 West street.

ASSESSMENT IS FAIR SAYS CHAMPLIN

DIRECTOR OF MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE WOULD SUSTAIN DALTON'S FIGURES.

Editor TRIBUNE: It is my opinion that the assessment of County Assessor Dalton on the properties of the Oakland Traction Consolidated and the Key Route system are just and equitable. I would not be in favor of any reduction in the assessment of any property that is properly assessed. J. L. CHAMPLIN, 460 Tenth street.

ASSESSMENT IS FAIR, HE SAYS

A. J. BOWMAN THINKS THERE SHOULD BE NO REDUCTION OF FIGURES.

Editor TRIBUNE—There is no doubt in my opinion that Assessor Dalton's valuation of the Oakland Traction Consolidated and the San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose Railway Company is just. Any reduction would be unjust to the other taxpayers of the city and county. A. J. BOWMAN. 826 Jefferson street.

REDUCTION WOULD BE GRAVE MISTAKE

WILLIAM KUHNLE SAYS FIGURES OF DALTON ARE ALREADY TOO LOW.

Editor TRIBUNE—It would be an injustice to the tax-paying public were the Supervisors to make the mistake of reducing the assessment of the Real Estate Syndicate. The assessment of $5,000,000 is ridiculously low, and in my opinion should be changed to correspond with the actual value of the properties. If it is the judgment of Assessor Dalton that the property of the Syndicate is worth $5,000,000 for taxation purposes, I will rest content with that appraisal, but would not under any consideration consent to a reduction. WILLIAM KUHNLE. Tax-payer, 271 Tenth street.

WOULD NOT ALTER THE ASSESSMENT

A. FONTE OF EAST OAKLAND FAVORS ASSESSOR DALTON'S FIGURES.

Editor TRIBUNE: Assessor Dalton's assessments have always been ratified by the voters of Alameda county. The Supervisors should think twice before cutting them down in favor of monopolies. My impression is firmly fixed that Mr. Dalton's assessments of the Realty Syndicate property should be sustained by the Board of Equalization. I am satisfied that the Assessor has acted in a just manner. A. FONTE. 1114 Sixteenth avenue.

SAYS DALTON IS VERY LENIENT

S. H. WADE HAS STRONG VIEWS ON THE ASSESSMENT OF STREET RAILROADS.

Editor TRIBUNE: As I understand it, the assessment levied by Mr. Dalton should not be lowered as regards the Realty Syndicate and Key Route system. In my opinion Mr. Dalton has been very lenient in placing values on the properties controlled by the Realty Syndicate and if the County Board of Equalization reduces his estimates the Board will not be acting justly by the other taxpayers of Alameda county. S. H. WADE, 1380 Tenth avenue.

TEACHING FORCE CHANGED

RESIGNATIONS ARE RECEIVED BY ALAMEDA BOARD OF EDUCATION.

ALAMEDA, August 2.—At the regular meeting of the Board of Education last night a number of changes were made in the teaching force of the department.

Miss Elizabeth Lorentzen, who was married to Principal Hughes, of the Merced High School, and which took place yesterday, presented her resignation, which was accepted.

Miss Louise Tati, who is to go to Berkeley, also presented her resignation. These vacancies were filled by the election of Miss Florence Du Bois of Berkeley, and Miss Elsie Kuhls of Alameda.

Frank L. Buffell was elected assistant teacher in the High School, to take the place of E. E. Wood, who resigned as teacher of history at the last meeting.

It was announced that Professor A. H. Cogswell, teacher of classics in the High School, had agreed to devote a period this year to Greek. Fifteen students have already been enrolled in this class.

VIGOROUS PROTEST FROM THE GOVERNOR

Declares That Federal Officials Are Interfering With the Rights of the Citizens.

NEW ORLEANS, August 2.—Governor Blanchard today wired to Secretary of the Treasury Shaw a vigorous protest against the interference of the revenue cutter Winona with fishing boats lawfully fishing in Louisiana or federal waters.

He advised that the Winona has been guilty of interference with the rights of Louisiana boats on navigable waterways of the United States and has apparently assisted the Mississippi quarantine boats in interference with Louisiana citizens.

The Governor requested prompt action to stop these practices and asked for the release of the boats held by the Winona.

The Governor also wired the Collector of Customs at Biloxi, under whose jurisdiction the Winona is, demanding the release of Louisiana boats said to be held by the revenue cutter.

A similar dispatch was sent by the Governor to the officer in charge of the marine hospital on Ship Island.

The latter officer also was asked by what authority he is holding the Louisiana boats, the immediate release of which is demanded.

No reply has been received to these telegrams.

MURDER MYSTERY EXPLODES

"CORPSE" IN BERKELEY IS ONLY THAT OF STRAW MAN.

BERKELEY, August 2.—E. F. Barry, a real estate man of Berkeley, called on the Police Department, the Morgue wagon and Deputy Coroner J. E. Streightliff last night to investigate a dastardly deed of murder, and to have the coroner take charge of the dead body and place it upon a marble slab at the Morgue.

When these officials arrived on the scene where Barry believed he had found a dead man they discovered the "corpse" was nothing but a straw dummy. Shortly after the dinner hour last night Mr. Barry strolled down Addison street to look at a new house which was being built under his direction on that thoroughfare.

Barry started to go into the basement to inspect the work, but jumped back in horror when he saw on the ground before him the body apparently of a dead man, with a handkerchief covering the face of the corpse. Barry believed it to be a terrible crime, which had been committed in the house. He fled from the scene and sent for the coroner and the police.

Deputy Coroner Streightliff, reaching the scene of the supposed crime a few minutes later, walked into the basement and found the corpse. He lifted the handkerchief from the face and then laughed loud and long. The man made of straw was responsible for all the trouble.

The evening before Mr. Hirschfeld's death a crowd of boys attacked his Japanese domestic while he was watering the lawn, which so enraged the

SURGEON GENERAL WYMAN NOT ADVISED OF DIS-AGREEMENT.

WORK TO COMMENCE WITHIN TEN DAYS AFTER BASALT BLOCKS ARRIVE.

WASHINGTON, August 2.—Surgeon General Wyman of the public health and marine hospital service said today that he had not received any official notification of the conflict between Louisiana and Mississippi over the question of quarantine.

He added: "The small boats which went into Lake Borgne and Lake Borgne inlet were probably under the State and local authorities of Mississippi."

NEW MINISTRY TO BE FORMED

STOCKHOLM, August 2.—A coalition ministry will be formed today as follows: Minister of State, Christian Lundeborg; Foreign Affairs, Count A. F. Wachtmeister; Justice, Judge C. A. Derg; War, Col. L. H. Tigesten; Marine, S. A. A. Lindeman; Interior, J. Winden; Finance, Herr Viesert; Education and Ecclesiastical Affairs, Herr Hammarskjöld; Agriculture, A. D. Petersen; Ministers without portfolio, Herr Peterson and Staff.

Herr Lundeborg, the new premier is speaker of the first chamber of the Riksdag and chairman of the special committee appointed by the Riksdag to deal with the crisis arising from the dissolution of the union.

Count Wachtmeister is a member of the first chamber and director of the land office.

Judge Berg also is a member of the first chamber.

Minister of Marine Lindemann is director of telegraphs.

Herr Hammarskjöld is president of the Goetah High Court.

Herr W. Winden, Viesert, Peterson and Staff are deputies and, Herr Petersen is a lawyer.

The new premier is one of the pillars of the conservative majority in the upper house. He was largely responsible for the conditions framed by the Riksdag for the dissolution of the union, and King Oscar selected him for the premiership, as he considered it desirable that some principles which dominated the committee should prevail during the negotiations.

Governor Blanchard Orders Naval Reserves to Lake. Charge Is Made That He Wanted Seven Thousand Dollars.

NEW ORLEANS, August 2.—Governor Blanchard today issued orders to Captain Bostick, in command of the Louisiana naval reserves, to proceed with a sufficient force to Lake Borgne and adopt measures for the protection of the Louisiana fishermen, citizens and boatmen.

The oyster commission was instructed to turn over the oyster fleet to Captain Bostick for service in this matter and the naval commander has instructions to add, by charter or impressment, whatever boats he deems desirable for his mission.

Governor Blanchard's action is based on the telegram received today, showing that the Mississippi authorities of Louisiana are reported to be employing high-handed measures and interfering with Louisiana citizens.

Captain Bostick today made a report to the Governor that armed Mississippians had been crossing the Louisiana border and that Mississippi launches had been interfering with traffic in Lake Pontchartrain and stopping fishing in that lake and that in Lake Borgne canal traffic has been interrupted.

JOHN HYDE IS COMING HOME

WASHINGTON, August 2.—In answer to a cablegram to John Hyde, former chief statistician of the Department of Agriculture, urging him to return to this country, Secretary Wilson received the following dispatch from Mr. Hyde:

"Southport, England, August 2.—Returning as soon as possible; letter."

Mr. Hyde left Washington about the time the special grand jury was convened to investigate the leak in the bureau of statistics by which it is alleged Edwin B. Holmes, the former associate statistician, furnished advance information of the department's figures on the cotton crop to New York brokers. When Mr. Hyde signed as chief of the bureau, he agreed to hold himself ready to aid the department of justice in the investigation. He took passage for Europe a few days later, and his departure was not learned by the Federal authorities who wanted him as a witness.

making the total deaths to date, 74. All these occurred in the emergency hospital. There was one new case, making a total of 347. Most of the physicians make their reports of new cases during the afternoon hours, so that until late in the evening it is not possible to give an accurate idea of the day's progress of the disease.

The board of health today despatched a squad of inspectors to Milneburg, which is situated on Lake Pontchartrain, in the suburbs of the city. A sick Frenchman was taken from there on Sunday and it was reported today that there was much sickness.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 2.—With a large increase of cases in the past twenty-four hours, the fever situation was not so favorable today as it had been hoped it would be. The development of infection to the quarter below Canal street is discouraging.

The unusually warm weather is thought to be partly responsible for the increased number of cases. In spite of rigid inspection concealed cases among sailors in the neighborhood of the appearance of two or three cases among persons whose business does not carry them into the infected district has given the impression that the stegomyia is possibly being carried out of the zone of inspection through the medium of street cars.

A severe rain and thunderstorm during the night caused the washing away of oil from many miles of gutters, and through a downpour caused hundreds of cisterns to discharge the oil which has been put into them. In consequence the ward organizations today began re-oiling all gutters, cisterns and ponds.

A CONTROVERSY

Another fruitless controversy between the States of Louisiana and Mississippi has developed in the filing of writs of injunction and injunction against the Mississippi militia in the federal courts in the case brought by Albert Baldwin, banker and capitalist of this city. Mr. Baldwin seeks to enjoin the Mississippi soldiers from taking possession of his fishing and hunting lodge on Pearl river. It seems that permission was granted to occupy the place for the military doing guard duty on the border and it was refused. The troops send word that unless permission was granted in a certain time, they would break open the place. Yesterday they broke in and Mr. Baldwin decided to bring suit. Marshals will probably be sent to the scene.

Henry McCall, collector of customs for New Orleans was qualified as disbursing agent of the government funds to be used in an effort to prevent the present fever from developing into an epidemic.

PLENTY OF MONEY.

Plenty of money will be at the disposal of Dr. White and his corps to carry on their work, provision having been made by the last Congress to meet just such an emergency as has developed here.

The usual August excursions to Chicago, St. Louis and the large cities of the north, east and west, on all the railroad lines will be abandoned this year.

NEW YORK, August 2.—Four of the persons taken from the San Jacinto, from Galveston and sent to Hoffman Island yesterday for observation, were discharged from quarantine today. The patients from the Segura were convalescing today.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., August 2.—Taking of testimony was begun today in the case of Senator Frank Farris on the charge of bribery. Senator E. J. Howell of Laville testified concerning the action of the Senate in 1901 and the appointment of committees by Lieutenant-Governor John A. Lee as president of the Senate.

Mr. Howell was a member of the criminal jurisprudence committee.

Former Lieutenant-Governor John A. Lee was then called to the stand. Lee testified that Senator Farris came to his room in the rear of the Senate chamber during the legislative session of 1901 and said that the House and Senate bills for the repeal of the law prohibiting the use of alum in the manufacture of baking powder could be smothered in committee.

Later Farris came to him, he testified, and said the bill would never be reported from the committee for the sum of $7,000, making $1,000 for each member of the committee of the criminal jurisprudence.

Lee testified that Farris asked him to refer the matter to J. Kelly of New York and that he wrote a letter to Kelly informing him of Farris' suggestions. Kelly telegraphed him to communicate with him (Kelly) over the long distance telephone and he did so.

Attorneys for the defense objected to the conversation being repeated. Judge Davis sent the jury from the room and the attorneys on both sides argued the point. The case was continued until the noon recess.

IS ARRESTED AT RICHMOND

OAKLAND MAN PUT IN JAIL—PERSONAL NOTES OF INTEREST.

RICHMOND, August 2.—James Patrick Rodgers of Fortieth street and Telegraph avenue, Oakland, came up to see the ball game Sunday. He got it into his head that the Oaklanders would wipe out the ground with the Oaklanders and when his car was nothing but goose.

He was so filled with woe that he sought to drown his sorrows in liquor. Rodgers acquired an abnormal "jag" and he became abusive, and then Officer Tyeer got him.

The bad man from Oakland was very meek Monday morning when he appeared in the Justice's court to explain his conduct. He said he had never before been arrested, was generally sober and industrious and, furthermore, was the partial support of a widowed mother, San Francisco.

His story, and upon promise of future good behavior the young man was told to go and sin no more.

BOY IS SHOT.

William McLean, a young brother of Jack and Jimmy McLean, was painfully and seriously injured Sunday by a gun shot in the foot.

Young McLean, with two companions, was out hunting in the neighborhood of San Francisco. The boys had a shot gun loaded with coarse bird shot, and while McLean was lying down on the ground, the gun, while in the hands of a companion, was discharged, the entire contents entering the right foot of the lad.

The injured boy was brought home by his companions and a physician summoned and treated. X-rays were taken and the wound was found to be in the foot, but it is the opinion of the doctor that the wound is not serious.

McLean was taken to the Roosevelt Hospital in San Francisco, where he will remain pending his restoration to health.

THOS. W. COOK DIES IN ALAMEDA

$22, about $25 altogether, and he took $12.50 and I got $12.50. And this is the truth."

PEMBROKE'S STORY.

According to the statements of Pembroke, he did not engage willingly in the hold-up of Stanley, while admitting that he participated in the affair. He says that Crowhurst told him that he had an engagement to meet a storekeeper—a little haberdasher—there, and that after they had been there Crowhurst gave him the mask and told him to put it on and that he would show him how to turn a trick.

Another attempt at hold-up which Crowhurst admits, was when an aged shoe man by the name of H. C. Cornwall was held up. The old man, however, upon seeing mere lads attempting to rob him, although they had pistols, began to cry for help, and they became so frightened that they ran away and left him. It is also stated by Blaker, Pembroke and Schneider that Crowhurst told them that he had been the one to hold up Mrs. Nash at Berkeley, who was robbed of $23. Crowhurst denies, however, that he had anything to do with that affair, but the others state that he had all the newspaper clippings about it, and showed them to all of them, and told them that he was the one who did it.

WOMAN'S STATEMENT.

In order to see what the truth of the matter was, Sheriff Barnett immediately sent out to Berkeley for Mrs. Nash, and had her come to the jail for the purpose of seeing if she could identify Crowhurst as the one who took her purse from her, but she was in such fear that she would only glance at Crowhurst out of the corner of her eye, and said that she did not recognize him. It is, however, stated by Crowhurst's pals that when he was in finances he would dress like a student and would pass even in the college town in the day time for one brooding over nothing more than that contained between the covers of innocent school books, and that in his present rough appearance his own father would hardly know him. In explanation of this, it is stated that Crowhurst and Blaker had been out on a tramp through the country and were arrested at Martinez only a short time ago for vagrancy and spent five days in jail there. They were let out on Friday morning, July 21, and got back to Fruitvale that night, and the next night, Saturday, July 22, Cook was assaulted and robbed of over $200, and Sunday night Schneider and Blaker were arrested at the ferries in San Francisco with two girl companions, both very well supplied with funds, which they had been spending freely seeing the Chutes and other places.

WHAT SHERIFF SAYS.

While by admissions both Crowhurst and Pembroke have been engaged in hold-ups, other than the one which resulted in the death of Cook, the injured man said that Schneider and Blaker were two of them, but also said there was a third, and Sheriff Barnett is now inclined to the opinion that Crowhurst was the third one in the affair. "Pembroke," said the Sheriff this morning, "seems to be the most innocent one of them all, and I hardly think that he is as bad as the rest of them, and am inclined to think that he was led into these things."

Crowhurst had been off for some time with Blaker, and they came home together. They had spent days in jail at Martinez and it is hardly likely that Schneider and Blaker would have taken a stranger into their confidence when they prepared their assault upon Cook. In all their talking no other name has been mentioned, and the evidence all points to the crime having originated and been executed among the four of them. Pembroke admits having been with Schneider and Blaker up to a short time before Cook was assaulted and robbed, but says that he went home. If as the Sheriff is now inclined to believe, Pembroke refused to participate in this affair, Crowhurst is left as the only other one that could have been engaged in it. If, however, no evidence can be found to connect him with it, he can be tried for the robbery of Stanley, and a charge of highway robbery will be prosecuted against him for that offense.

WILL GET STORY.

Both Sheriff Barnett and Jailer White, however, are of the opinion that it will not be long before they have the entire story of the affair from the lips of some one of them. They are all showing a disposition to talk and as the statements of one are contradicted by another, and they are then brought face to face with each other, the tendency has been to break down their reserve, and set them against each other in a way that is forcing them to explain their standing in the light most favorable to themselves. On the other hand, it is known that one of them is probably innocent of participating in the assault on Cook, and it is hoped that whichever one this is, that before he will allow himself to be tried for the crime, he will turn State's evidence and tell what he knows, for it is believed that if they did not all engage in the affair, they at any rate all knew what was afoot.

Frank Cook, the brother of the deceased boy, is prostrated over his brother's death, and has as yet made no arrangements for the funeral. They had lived together and his younger brother had helped him with his store, and drove his wagon for him, and it was to him that he entrusted the management of it during his absence on his vacation. He feels his loss keenly and is heartbroken to think that while his brother knew who his assailants were, that a statement or identification was not obtained from him.

THE FUNERAL.

ALAMEDA, August 2.—The funeral of Thomas W. Cook, who died at the Alameda Sanatorium from the effects of injuries received several days ago, when he was robbed and beaten near his home on Fruitvale Avenue, will take place Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock from his residence, 1608 Fruitvale Avenue.

ELECT OFFICERS FOR SCHOOL

ALL BERKELEY CHILDREN NOT VACCINATED MAY BE ENROLLED.

BERKELEY, August 2.—A mass meeting of citizens who are opposed to the enforcement of the compulsory vaccination law was held in Golden Sheaf Hall last night, when arrangements were perfected for the opening of the free school for unvaccinated children. The school will be ready for use in the next two or three weeks.

The following officers were elected last night: Dr. S. H. Frazier, president; George H. Wright, vice president; A. Z. Holloway, secretary; J. G. Wright, treasurer; S. A. Hullin and John A. Wilson, auditors.

The following school directors were elected: J. G. Wright, Dr. Frazier, Samuel Taylor, Mrs. A. H. McDonald, Mrs. Alice V. Holloway, Mrs. L. Moller and Mrs. Dr. E. Campbell. Mrs. Mary Wilson was made principal.

The names of fifty children are now on the roll who have paid an initiation fee of $1, which entitles them to membership in the vaccination league.

The finances of the league are said to be in good condition and it is believed that the school will be a success. A constitution and by-laws to be used in connection with the school were adopted last night. The children in the new school will commence as soon as the directors arrange for school supplies and the transportation of Golden Sheaf Hall into a school room is finished.

THE TRIBUNE

FRANK WOODS SENTENCED TO BE HANGED

Must Give up His Life for Murder of Policeman—Companion Goes Free.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 2.—Frank Woods was sentenced by Judge Cook in the Superior Court this morning to be hanged at San Quentin State Prison on October 6 for the murder of Policeman Robinson about three years ago.

When the remittitur from the Supreme Court affirming the decision of the lower court was presented to Judge Cook the court asked Attorney Al Wheeler, counsel for the defendant, if he had anything to offer against the passing of the death sentence.

"There are no legal reasons," said Wheeler, "for a stay of execution. The defendant is ready for sentence."

"This is but one of the serious cases tried in this department," responded the Judge. "I have listened to the testimony given at all these trials with great care, from the first to the last, and certainly there is no question but that this defendant has had a fair presentation of his case; and he was found guilty by a jury of murder in the first degree."

Turning to the prisoner, the Judge asked him if he had anything to say why the death sentence should not be pronounced on him.

"I have your Honor," said Woods from the dock, "I want to say that I am not half as bad as I have been painted. Furthermore, the Supreme Court did not give me a fair decision. I think it was a rotten decision. I did not get a fair trial, and the papers reported me."

"I am not afraid to die. I'm not afraid, as far as death goes; but I want to know, Judge," which is the worst—Henderson or I?"

Judge Cook interrupted him by telling Woods that the evidence was so strong against him that there could not be a shadow of doubt of his guilt. "And it was you that fired the fatal shot," the court added.

Your Honor, Henderson lied when he told you about me. You know I lied in his testimony against me. He admitted he lied on the stand. Could you believe a man like that, Judge? I say again that I did not get a fair trial."

COURT ORDERS EXECUTION.

"The jury found you guilty after a fair trial," interrupted the Judge. Woods tried to talk again, but Judge Cook continued: "The order of the court is that

TEACHER TO BE WANTS WHITE TO A BRIDE BE BLACK

ALAMEDA, Aug. 2.—Miss Elizabeth Lorentzen, a teacher of the Alameda school department, is to become the bride tonight, at the home of her parents, on Clinton avenue, of James B. Hughes, principal of the Merced High School, and who is a brother of Charles C. Hughes, former Superintendent of Schools in Alameda.

The news of the approaching wedding has been kept very quiet, so the many friends of the bride-elect will be given a surprise.

The marriage, it is understood, is the second of a summer romance of Lake Tahoe, where Miss Lorentzen and Mr. Hughes spent several weeks together in June.

Miss Lorentzen has been a teacher in the local department for the past seven years, being instructor in history in the grammar grades of the Market School.

After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will make their home in Merced, where the groom, besides being principal of the High School, is also Superintendent of Schools.

SHE TALKS WITH SPIRITS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—J. W. Welsh, the deputy poundmaster, whose wife, Louisa, ran half clothed with her baby in her arms from her home, 240 Sweeney street, Sunday morning, swore to a complaint today charging his wife with insanity. But the Lunacy Commission will not take action on the case until tomorrow.

Welsh stated that his wife was in good health and spirits until about six weeks ago, when she became interested in spiritualism and began to imagine she could talk with her deceased sister.

Welsh lays all his troubles to the door of Mrs. Lund, a neighbor, who the husband says started Mrs. Welsh on her "crazy ways." When the case comes before the Lunacy Commission tomorrow Mrs. Lund will be called to explain what she knows about the alleged hypnotic spell.

BURIED BENEATH DEBRIS.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., August 2.—Two men were fatally injured yesterday evening in tunnel 16 of the Edison Power Co. The men were engaged in trimming the tunnel and preparing it for the cement workers when they struck an old charge of dynamite, which had failed to explode when the blast was fired. The charge exploded with terrific force and the two men were almost buried by the rock torn loose. The men were immediately extricated and taken to the company hospital at Camp No. 2, where they are receiving every attention from the physician in charge. No hope is entertained for their recovery.

An accident of this kind seldom occurs as it is very easy for the miners to tell when all of the shots fired go off, and any which fail are supposed to receive immediate attention in order to avoid all danger. That the men were not killed instantly is a mystery to be explained by fuller details of the occurrence, which were unobtainable at this time.

BROKER HOWARD ABSCONDS

San Francisco Capitalist Flees to Honduras With Fortune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 2.—Allan Howard, for years a business man of this city, devoting himself chiefly to the loaning of money, is an absconder.

He hurried to Honduras several days ago from New Orleans, and took with him all the money he could rake together from the various investments of his clients, which is thought to have approximated $100,000.

The news of his flight was received by his wife in a letter dated New Orleans, July 27, in which he said he would be in Honduras when it was received. He added that it was either flight or suicide. It had been expected for some time that his business affairs were in bad shape.

JEFF SCANLAN IN TRAIN WRECK

Deputy Sheriff Jeff Scanlan was in the train wreck that occurred between Glen Ellen and Eldridge last evening, and although he escaped without any serious mishap was badly shaken up by the sudden stopping of the train.

The train, he says, was running at a good rate of speed, when the engine suddenly left the track and went into the embankment on one side and the rear of the engine was thrown against the other, and then before the engine became stationary the front end slipped around and backward in such a way as to leave the cowcatcher facing the balance of the train, making a complete turn of the engine. The engineer was terribly scalded by the escaping steam and died of his injuries before morning.

Scanlan and Mrs. Tobin were taking Agnes McCarthy to the home for the Feeble-Minded at Eldridge and say the sudden stopping of the train threw everybody in the train off their seats and against the ones in front of them.

RIGGINS CHARGED WITH MURDER

FRESNO, Aug. 2.—The Coroner's jury held an inquest today on the body of Robert E. Deane, who was murdered by Emmett Riggins, while a guest at the latter's home last night. Deane was intoxicated at the time he was shot. Riggins now claims that Deane not only threatened him, but made several very insulting remarks regarding Riggins' wife.

The jury found that Deane came to his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by Riggins.

While no statement of the assets and liabilities have been filed, it is said the firm owes close to $400,000.

CARE FOR STRICKEN PEOPLE

Authorities Making Good Fight Against Yellow Fever.

NEW ORLEANS, August 2.—Thousands of civilians are to be sent through the South by the business men of New Orleans containing an emphatic declaration by Dr. J. H. White of the United States Marine Hospital Service, that freight cannot carry yellow fever infection.

A number of tenders of assistance from nurses and doctors in other parts of the country have been received, but declined.

The Italians, who formed a permanent organization on Sunday, have opened headquarters in the heart of the originally infected district, and are already relieving and filling requests for relief. Immunes have been appointed to visit the stricken district and report the number of sick and cases of distress.

The colored organizations are doing good work in co-operating with the health authorities. There has been an impression that negroes are immune to yellow fever. That, however, is not a fact, that Dr. Walter Cohen, who has investigated the records of other epidemics, declares that the black members of the race are less susceptible than mulattoes.

Governor Blanchard has arranged with the authorities here for the fumigation of passenger coaches that run between points in Louisiana. Many medical men in the interior think the stegomyia can be carried by cars; and that there is danger of transmission of the fever unless disinfection of the coaches is resorted to.

Lafayette has decided to take no freight from New Orleans, unless the cars are disinfected. At Alexander, notice has been given that no boats from New Orleans will be permitted to land. Port Gibson, Miss., has appointed a vigilance committee to guard against the entry of strangers. Pass Christian, Miss., has shut herself up completely. Utica, Miss., has sent word that she wants no mail that is not fumigated.

The canning industry on the Gulf Coast has suffered severely by reason of drastic quarantines. The oyster canning season is closed, but the season for fruit and shrimp canning is on. Cannery men have found it difficult to get the raw product, but arrangements are being perfected whereby the craft engaged in the industry will be duly registered and inspected and their officers and crews given certificates, so that they communicate with the canneries without trouble, providing they do not touch at infected ports.

Dr. Chas. Le Baron, in charge of the detention camp at Lumberton, Miss., has wired here that the report that five Italians were shot or killed by the guards there, was absolutely false and that not a shot was fired, either by guards or Italians.

MERCHANTS ARE TO HAVE BETTER SERVICE

Good Streets Are Discussed By Exchange—Col. Gier Tells of Portland Trip.

Before the Merchants' Exchange last evening, Director Downey of the special committee appointed for the purpose reported in regard to better freight ferry service between this city and San Francisco, that the railroad company had promised to give improved service beginning September 1st. The speaker said that, after hearing the other side of the question he felt almost as if the request made was out of place on account of the efforts being made by the attendance to improve the service and the obstacles met with.

WANTS NEW BOAT.
Secretary Walker stated that the only permanent solution of the question was for the company to build a new boat, as those available now were inadequate. The company seemed to be rather slow in taking steps to secure the proper facilities to better the service.

Director Lea said that he called Superintendent Palmer's attention to the fact that the Southern Pacific could not give a special service to Berkeley until the Key Route came in. He then asked Mr. Palmer if the merchants of Oakland would have to wait until they secured competition from another road before the freight service was improved. The speaker said he believed the company would give the merchants proper facilities for shipping goods.

GIER REPORTS.
Director Theodore Gier of the Merchants' Exchange, who is a commissioner to the Portland Exposition from this county and who has just returned from the North, made a report on his visit, at the meeting of the Merchants' Exchange last night.

He said he found the weather better this time than on the occasion of his previous visit. The attendance was very good, the lowest of any day being 16,000. He arrived was German day and there were 29,000 people at the fair. The celebration was a very successful one and the visitor from other parts of the country who were shown about the California building expressed great surprise at the exhibition of products and manufactures here. They said they had often heard of the resources of California and now were convinced by what they had seen that the stories were not exaggerated.

Colonel Gier referred to the custom adopted by the exposition to have special days for different districts. At first it was thought it wouldn't do to have special days every day, but it was found that this could be done very successfully.

THE ATTENDANCE.
Generally, the speaker said, the attendance from California was the best and the California building was always filled. Of course it was somewhat of a drawback that Alameda county could not have a distinct exhibit, but a good showing as possible had been made. The exhibit of

AWFUL PSORIASIS 35 YEARS

Terrible Scaly Humor In Patches All Over the Body—Skin Cracked and Bleeding—Itching Unbearable—Cured by Cuticura In Thirty Days at Cost of $4.75.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL
CURE BY CUTICURA

"I was afflicted with psoriasis for thirty-five years. It was in patches all over my body. I used three cakes of Soap, six boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent. I bathed with the Soap, applied the Ointment once a day, and took the Resolvent as directed. In thirty days I was completely cured, and I think permanently, as it was about five years ago.

"The psoriasis first made its appearance in red spots, generally forming a circle, leaving in the center about the size of a silver dollar of sound flesh. In a short time the affected circle would form a heavy dry scale of a white silvery appearance and would gradually drop off. To remove the scales by bathing or using oil to soften them the flesh would be perfectly raw, and a light discharge of bloody substance would ooze out. That scaly crust would form again in twenty-four hours. It was worse on my arms and limbs, although it was in spots all over my body, also on my scalp. If I let the scales remain too long without removing by bath or otherwise, the skin would crack and bleed. I suffered intense itching, worse at nights after getting warm in bed, or blood warm by exercise, when it would be almost unbearable.

"To sum it all up, I would not go through such another ordeal of affliction for thirty-five years for the State of Kansas, (signed) W. M. Chidester, Hutchinson, Kan., April 20, 1905."

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, are sold throughout the world. Porter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Prop., Boston. 25¢ Retail Price. "How to Cure Psoriasis" (Litho.)

MOBBED BY MANY WOMEN

Attack Auto Driver Who Had Run Over
Child.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—A six-year-old girl was run down and probably fatally hurt last night in Brooklyn by a large automobile. A mob attacked the chauffeur, Nils Brollin, who was saved from serious injury by a policeman.

The child was at play in the street with her mother and did not see the automobile approaching. Brollin tried to stop the machine when he saw the child was bewildered and hesitated in which direction to fly.

He threw on all of his brakes and the motor stopped after one wheel had passed over the body of the child. Brollin jumped from the machine, and hastened to a phone, where he called for an ambulance.

Upon his return to the automobile he found a throng surrounding two friends whom he had in the machine. Women with clubs struck at him and men threw stones until the policeman arrived.

The mother took the insensible body in her arms, and, refusing to let the ambulance doctors touch her, carried the child half a mile to the hospital.

BOY IS AN ANGRY GIANT

Rough-House Created by a 6 Foot 15 Year Old.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—On complaint of his father, Alfred Brice, a 15-year-old boy, who is more than six feet tall and of manly proportions, has been arrested. The father declared that when he remonstrated with the young man for some action, the boy demolished everything in the dining-room, threatened to fire the house and loudly declared that if a policeman attempted to stop him he would kill him.

Alfred Sr., dodging the flying glassware and china, ran into the street and called a patrolman. After a long search in the house, the police found the erstwhile rough-house inclined youth hiding under a bed in his father's room, crying as if his heart would break. When taken to the station, Alfred's feelings were once more lacerated when he was turned over to the children's society.

CLARK FORCES ARE SATISFIED

GETS AN IMPORTANT TRAFFIC
CONTRACT WITH SOUTH-ERN PACIFIC.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 2.—The conference between the officials of the Clark road and the Southern Pacific was brought to a close late yesterday afternoon after another long day of wrangling. At the close of the meeting it was announced that a satisfactory arrangement had been made under which the two roads will exchange business in the southern part of the State. The result is a decided victory for the Clark forces, for it has been generally understood and openly hinted by the Harriman representatives that the Salt Lake road would be granted no concessions in the way of track or switching arrangements.

Under the terms of the deal agreed upon are not made public, nor will the attending officials say anything of the pressure that was brought to bear to induce the final decision of the Harriman forces. It is said, however, that the hint was openly made in the meeting that the Clark road would have to consider a fair share of Southern California traffic.

Whatever preliminary squabbling was indulged in at the secret conference, however, the result is that the Clark road has been granted some of the concessions for which it has been striving ever since it became an overland road. Vice-President J. Ross Clark and General Freight and Passenger Agent E. W. Gillette, who are in the city, will be in the city to handle freight traffic to and from points beyond its own road. In granting this concession, however, the Southern Pacific, it is said, practically dictated the terms, and the Southern Pacific traffic officials figure that their company will not lose much on the transaction.

The conference was prolonged long beyond the usual hour when the elevators stop running in the Merchants' Exchange building, and J. Ross Clark hurried from the meeting to the Palace Hotel and then to the Ferry Building, where he took the evening train for Portland, where he expects to make an extended visit in company with his wife. The other visiting officials will remain in the city to look after the details of the big traffic deal.

The Corruption of Trust Greed.

Cardinal Gibbons says trust greed is responsible for corruption in politics. It is certainly responsible for a great deal of it. The corporations are not only brazen in their crooked financial methods, but they openly and defiantly shirk their taxes. Tax-shirking is one of the most flagrant sins of organized wealth, and tax-shirking involves official connivance. Hence the body politic is not only plundered, but its servants are corrupted by associations of capital engaged in exploiting the public in illegitimate as well as legitimate ways.

It is a notorious fact that the verbal statements to official bodies of the officers and attorneys for public service corporations are absolutely worthless. The corporations are never bound by the pledges or promises of their officers and agents, and never fail to avail themselves of every device or subterfuge to evade complying with their agreements with the general public. Franchises are obtained by all sorts of specious representations and promises, but no sooner are they obtained than the public trust is abused. The pledges are ignored or openly repudiated. The conditions on which the franchises are granted are not complied with, and in short the public is treated by corporations very much as a green countryman is used by a gang of bunco sharps. It is first robbed and then abused.

But how common is it to find a corporation which has violated every pledge it made the public, and obtained concessions of great value by methods akin to fraud if not by actual corrupt practices, evading payment of even a small proportion of their taxes. We see them continually shouldering off their tax burdens on the public, whose confidence they have abused and whose privileges they have put to purposes not far removed from swindling. We see them exerting the influence their money and their power gives them to induce weak or cowardly officials to tend assistance to their schemes of lawless greed. That is why the property of the plain citizen is usually assessed for two or three times as much proportionately as is the property of big corporations. The ordinary taxpayer is systematically robbed that "trust greed," as Cardinal Gibbons terms it, may be placated to the extent of being relieved of paying its just share of the costs of government.

The employees of these corporations, men who work hard long hours for small pay and need every dollar they can earn for the support of their families, have their wages summarily levied on for poll tax. They cannot evade paying taxes nor claim that they are assessed too high. They cannot hire lawyers to argue that a dollar is only worth twenty cents when it comes to paying taxes or keep literary sponges to wipe off the record the facts of current history. They cannot bully or buy officials. They must pay, and pay down on the nail, even if the flour bin at home be empty and the toes of the children peeping through their shoes.

But the agents of the tax-shirking corporations say to officials "We will hit you with the votes of those employees of ours if you make us pay our just proportion of taxes. It is a bluff of course, but it often works. Timid officials can always be found who will believe corporations own and control the votes of their employees, hence we often see the principles of justice and the functions of government prostituted to serve the ends of trust greed by officials who have not been corrupted in the financial sense. There are few communities which cannot furnish local proofs of the truth of the venerable prelate's indictment of trust greed.

Indiana has a very strict anti-cigarette law. Recently a Hoosier named Danby petitioned Governor Hanly for permission to allow his chimpanzee to smoke cigarettes. He said the chimpanzee had been addicted to smoking cigarettes for years; his physician had advised him that the animal would suffer in health and might die if not allowed his regular smoke. When a Rev. Mr. Shaw, who recently severely criticised the Governor for failing to enforce the law, heard of Danby's application, he said: "I cannot give my consent to the Governor or any person deliberately allowing a violation of this law, even by a chimpanzee. You admit yourself that this terrible cigarette habit has so fixed itself upon this nearest to human of animals that he cannot do without smoking them. And if this is true, how much more seriously will a boy or even a man be affected by this habit?" Mr. Shaw belongs to a class of reformers who either turn reform into ridicule or disgust common sense people. He should have declined to treat the matter seriously. It is not improbably that the petition was sent to the Governor mainly to get the clergyman to make a spectacle of himself. If so, the trick was entirely successful.

Los Angeles' Big Water Scheme.

The pressure on the water supply of Los Angeles has become so great, owing to the extraordinary growth of the city, that the necessity for enlarging it has become imminent. The lack of an adequate supply is a threatening spectre in the path of the city's progress. As all the water in the district immediately surrounding Los Angeles has been appropriated and nearly all of it utilized it was necessary to look far afield for an addition to the water supply that could be deemed worth while. According to the Los Angeles Times the city has finally secured a supply of 30,000 inches on Owens river, but it will cost a vast sum to divert and pipe it to Los Angeles.

It may well be doubted also that the Owens river drainage basin will afford any such flow as 30,000 inches daily unless a vast impounding system be constructed to store the waters during the flood season. But even 10,000 inches would afford a daily supply of 133,000,000 gallons, which would require three huge mains to transmit. It is a project of enormous magnitude to develop and conduct such a vast quantity of water such a great distance as lies between Los Angeles and the Owens river valley. It is equal to bringing water from the high Sierra to San Francisco. The cost will be fabulous, and it is difficult to see how Los Angeles can finance the project under the existing law. The conception of the scheme is a bold one, however, and the people of the Southern metropolis have exhibited a surprising genius for large enterprises. They may succeed in carrying through this tremendous undertaking, though it looks very improbable at this distance.

It was rather mean of Paul Morton to cut James H. Hyde socially right after cutting the old lady off the pension roll. It was adding insult to injury.

Political News from Stockton.

The San Francisco correspondent of the Stockton Record is doing some lively knocking on Governor Pardee's boom for re-election. He quotes at length the utterances of some unnamed Republican politician who claims to have been swinging around the State recently. According to this veracious authority nearly all the politicians in California are sore on the Governor. Apparently the anonymous political traveler made no attempt to find out what the people think of the State administration. He appears to have hunted up only politicians with a kick coming, and has drawn the Governor's political microscope on what they had to say. If he had consulted the voters he would probably have heard a different story.

However, the Record is very close to Railroad Commissioner Orrin Henderson, who is said to cherish an ambition to try on Governor Pardee's official shoes. There may be nothing in this fact, but we shrewdly suspect the Republican politician who found so much anti-Pardee sentiment in his wanderings has been around trying to pick up votes for Commissioner Henderson. Of course there may be no connection between the Commissioner's alleged gubernatorial aspirations and the tale unfolded to the Record's correspondent by the aforesaid Republican politician, but we should be loth to wager a meal ticket on it.

We have an idea that the journeyman politician was looking for what he found, and found a good deal that he did not say anything about. Wonder if he lives in Stockton.

Senate Lame Ducks.

A Washington dispatch to the San Francisco Examiner says there is likelihood that the Senate will be called on to investigate the derelictions of certain of its members. Past history does not give color to this report. Although it was a matter of common knowledge that Senator Roach of North Dakota was a defaulter to a Washington bank prior to his hurried emigration to the West his right to sit in the Senate was never questioned. No objection was ever raised regarding his peculiar financial operations on the outside. Now Senators Burton and Mitchell are charged with taking fees which the law calls bribes for practicing law (i. e., using Senatorial influence) with the departments, said influence being used in behalf of grafters and land grabbers. The acts charged had no visible connection with legislation or any proceeding of the Senate, and hence that body, pursuing its usual custom, will not assume jurisdiction over matters properly belonging to the criminal courts.

Senator Dietrich of Nebraska is charged with taking money from a postmaster in return for procuring him the office. But the transaction took place between the time of Senator Dietrich's election and his taking the oath of office. Hence the court declared no offense had been committed, as Dietrich was not a Senator at the time the transaction occurred. The Senate also dismissed the affair on practically the same grounds. Although Dietrich has been acquitted by a Scotch verdict, it is morally certain that he sold his political influence as a Senator for a fee.

Clark of Montana is accused of getting himself elected by open and notorious bribery. The same charge has been made time and time again against other men, and with equal appearance of truth, but the Senate has taken no notice. In some of the Nevada elections the use of money in behalf of Senatorial aspirants was as open and notorious as the peddling of peanuts at a circus. Why should an example be made of Clark at this late day?

No moral turpitude in the conventional sense applies to Smoot of Utah. He was not elected by bribery or fraud at the polls; he is not a bribe-taker, nor a man who can be charged with corrupt or degrading practices. But he was elected by ecclesiastical influence and is sitting in the Senate as the mere agent of the Mormon hierarchy. He represents a conspiracy against the laws and institutions of the United States and against the morals and decencies of Christian civilization. He is the clean minister of a most unclean cult and an unclean system of theocracy.

Last in the list is Chauncey Depew, the Senator from the New York Central Railroad—a smiling, smooth-lipped debonaire agent of corporate and family interests. Other railroad dummies have occupied seats in the Senate, and some of them have been less mindful of the obligations of official life than Mr. Vanderbilt's political valet. But Chauncey has been detected dipping, along with a horde of others, into the coffers of the Equitable Assurance Society. While a director of the society he has voted himself $20,000 a year as special counsel, though his services were limited to giving advice of a questionable character. He also stood verbal sponsor for a bad loan to a corporation in which he was a stockholder, and subsequently repudiated the security he gave.

It is an interesting bunch, but we hardly think the Senate will purge itself of their company. A certain class of men always stand together.

THE FOOTHILLS.

Under the cloudless blue they lie;
Golden hills in the golden sun;
Rising up to the mountains high.
Reaching down where the rivers run,
Smooth and bright as a beaten strand,
Fresh and strange as an unsailed sea,
Billowing out on either hand,
Sweet with a magical witchery.

Up to the springs of youth they lead,
Under the edge of the purple pine;
Ways untainted by toil or greed.
Paths where peace in its fullness shines;

Winds of healing above them pass,
Free and fresh in their stainless might;
Golden ripples the mountain grass,
Golden stretches the boundless light.

Oh, to be where the foothills rise,
Far away from the homes of men!
Oh, for an hour to lift mine eyes
Up to their glorious slopes again!
All day long my feet must fare
Over the paths on that altar stair,
Lifted up by the hills of God!
—Youth's Companion.

A Woman's Thimble.

It lies there in her basket.
A little golden toy;
You'd scarce believe the tiny thing
Could mean so much joy.

A little childish trinket,
A tiny golden band;
And yet, the simple childlike thing
Once grace a woman's hand.

A woman's heart once held it
As costlier than a crown;
As dearer than the dearest gift
By honored hands laid down.

A little girlish trinket,
A woman's lips have pressed;
The last of one bright, radiant dream,
Since time had slain the rest.

A little unused bauble,
And laid away with tears,
Since hand nor heart will hold it more
Through all the silent years.

A little golden thimble,
It had its day of mirth;
Since gifts are dear for giver's sake,
And not for gold or worth.

And gold and gift have lost their charm
Of tender thought to bind;
Since gifts are but a mocking show,
When givers prove unkind.

It lies there in her basket.
A little golden toy;
You'd scarce believe it held so much
Of mingled pain and joy.

BOXING BOWLING BASEBALL

FUTURITY WINNER MAY BE UNDER A BLANKET

BY "THE SAUNTERER."

At this date the probable issue of the Futurity is more than ordinarily obscure and the location of probable favorite is a task of the greatest difficulty. By this time last year it was almost a certainty that Sysonby would be the favorite at Tanya, Tradition, Oiseau and others were standing boldly in view as legitimate contenders. The best now in sight are First Water, Accountant, Esoteric, Jacobite and Mr. Belmont's pair, Woolwich and Don Diego. This is a very slim list of definite possibilities, with First Water a doubtful quantity. Had this fine colt remained sound, it is probable that by this time he would have been an overwhelming favorite in public estimation, but his injury has kept him on the shelf so long that he is now practically lost to view. Hope is said to be entertained that he will be made ready for the big race, but at best an unsound horse is a doubtful reliance for such a race as the Futurity. Accountant, Esoteric, Don Diego, Jacobite and Woolwich have all run respectably, but none of the five has shown the brilliant speed characteristic of the leading candidates of last year. The conclusion is that if the winner is to be chosen from the Futurity form division the Futurity of 1905 will be contested by a field of mediocre youngsters, barring the possibility that First Water can be brought to the post in condition to run to his spring form.

Of the last six winners of the Futurity three made their first start at Saratoga, and in the opinion of many the "dark" division of this year's Futurity contains the winner of 1905. In this connection a recital of the first start of the last six winners is presented as being of interest.

In 1899 Chacornac made his debut in a purse race at Saratoga August 17, defeating Coburg and Colonel Roosevelt at five furlongs in 1:00 3/4.

Ballyhoo Bay, the winner in 1900, made his first start at Morris Park, May 22, and ran third to Handwork and Golden Age. He did not start again until he came out to win the Futurity for Mr. Whitney under the able pilotage of Tod Sloan, who came across from England especially to ride the colt.

The winner of 1901, Yankee ran his first race at Saratoga Aug. 9, finishing first in a dash of five furlongs for a purse with Cornwall second and Tribes Hill third. Time 1:02 2-5.

Through the speed of Savable the horse of the race fell to the west. This colt made his first start at Louisville as the property of Pat Durme, May 6, and won a four and a half furlong dash, with The Fickett second and Grand Mar third, subsequently winning other races and acquiring a great reputation before John A. Drake purchased him for a high price and reaped a rich reward.

Hamburg Belle began her racing career early and unpromisingly, having first started at Aqueduct April 16, 1903, and run unplaced at Putnam, Julia M. and Contendons.

From the foregoing it can be seen that there are excellent precedents for cherishing expectations that the racing Futurity favorite in some colt or mare that up to the present has been held in modest retirement in some of the big stables. The inconclusive character of the two-year-old form of the year-to-date will insure this possibility with pleasing charms to those devotees of racing who delight in hailing the advent of a new star of the track.

The grand fill that won last year's Futurity, Artful, made her first public essay at Saratoga, August 10, in a five and a half furlong dash, in which she finished second, being held to allow her stable companion, Dreamer, to lead. Katie Carey was third, and the time was 1:08.

GOSSIP FROM ALL EASTERN PADDOCKS

John J. McCafferty and J. A. Wernberg, for whom he trains, are going to Saratoga during August. It is said that McCafferty has an idea that he can win the Futurity with a colt named Kable of American blood, and the purpose of the visit is to look over the grounds thoroughly. If the ideas of McCafferty are supported, it is said to be the intention to buy some good

BRITT-NELSON TO FIGHT 50 ROUNDS AT COLMA

TRUCKEE, August 2.—Billy Nolan, Britton Nelson's manager, left last night for San Francisco to complete arrangements for a fight between Britton Nelson and the Colma Club. Nolan said before his departure: "I have no doubt the fight will be pulled off on September 9. The Colma Club guarantees $30,000 for the fight."

The only hitch lies with Britton, who is to fight Nelson if the Western Club failed to get the permit. We are

GOOD UMPIRE BUT HEAD'S TOO BIG

A few words of friendly advice to "Slats" Davis, says the Portland Journal: "Slats" was appointed umpire mostly on the strength of Portland recommendations. He has received many flattering notices along the coast. Some of the notices have not been so kind. Not noticing words, but kind, plain and blunt, there is nothing amiss in stating that the fans' impression of "Slats" Davis is that he has a "swelled" head. We think that Davis is a good umpire, but he overestimates the importance of his position. He is too overbearing, too forceful, and is a disgrace to fans and players alike, and so it is only a question of time before the entire fandom will become displeased. He should use more tact and not insist on maintaining the opinion that "Slats" Davis is the only one who has a correct knowledge of the national game."

horses after the Saratoga meeting and ship them abroad during the fall. During the Saratoga meeting the Wernberg horses will be rested up at Brighton Beach.

"A new scheme to prevent the acceptance of wagers has been unearthed in the Brighton Beach ring." "Say, lads, have you been putting up prices, but refusing wagers, with the excuse that they have already taken in enough money on the horses indicated. On the sheets they point to a list of wagers, prove their contention. But, according to some of the ring sharps, these wagers are 'phony,' having been put down by the sheet writers at random. The practice of declining wagers at the quoted prices is old one, but there is no attempt on the part of the 'Mets' to eradicate it. There have been many complaints about it, but nothing has been done. A bettor runs a chance of being insulted if he persists in his desire to make a wager when he sees a price, but he has no redress."

An American-bred two-year-old filly Waterflower, by Waterhouse, Fanny, by Virgil, is running so well in England that already many deem her the probable winner of the Epsom Oaks of 1905. She was bred by Mr. J. B. Hargan at Farnham de Tass and is the property of the South African magnate, J. B. Joel, for whom she won four good races in excellent fashion.

Savable is among the horses doing satisfactory work at Saratoga. This formerly good race horse has not started since running unplaced in the Champion Stakes, won by Irish Lad, at Saratoga, August 15, 1903.

Newton Bennington's good two-year-old, First Water, is reported to be doing well at Saratoga and worked a half in 51 recently without showing signs of lameness. It is supposed that he will be Mr. Bennington's representative in the rich Saratoga Special, which will be run Saturday, August 5.

From the way Jillette keeps on winning at Latonia, it seems that Mortie Ponce deserves a chance on some well equipped breeding farm. She is distinctly one of the best two-year-old fillies of the year, and is good enough to bring distinction to any sire.

It is said that Oiseau has long been pointed for the Great Republic Stakes at Saratoga, which, with 118 pounds up, he will meet Sysonby, 119. O'Neill is to ride Olsen in the race.

If in this country an owner was known to be betting against his own horse it would bring about a commotion that would result in his punishment by the judges, yet it is not uncommon in England, nor is it held to be an offense where his opinion regarding the capacity of his horse differs from that of the general public. A case in point occurred at the recent Sandown meeting, near London, in which public betting made Mr. Hibbert's Merry Page a 4 to 5 favorite, and of which Sporting Life says: "Experience has made Mr. Charles Hibbert's opinion very valuable, and when it concerns his own horse it becomes invaluable. For people accepted his estimate of Merry Page on Saturday as correct, and in defiance of better odds on his winning the Middlesex plate. In Mr. Hibbert's opinion the horse was not entitled to his market position, and he supported the idea by laying a level $200 against him. Later he backed it back, as he did not wish to profit by defeat, but he utterly refused to lose anything over him at the price. In the early part of the race it appeared as though he would have reason to regret his policy, but when Snowberry seriously tackled him, he soon had him beaten."

In England the apprentice rider Wheatley still holds a long lead over his closest competitor in winning mounts and his percentage attests the excellent work in the saddle of this rising star of jockeydom. Up to July 3 the records of the leading jockeys riding in England were as follows:

Name	Mounts	Wins	Pct.
E. Wheatley (apprentice)	255	64	25.09
Madgen	235	48	20.43
D. Maher (American)	186	45	24.19

JACK CLIFFORD, BOXER, SIGNED TO PLAY ON OAKLAND'S TEAM

Will Wear Mask in Place of James Byrnes

The management of the Oakland Baseball Club is determined to win the pennant for the second half of the Pacific Coast League season, and to this end has its lines out for material to strengthen the team.

Already the services of John Clifford Tenberth have been secured. Now baseball fans may not know just who is Jack Clifford Tenberth.

But when the announcement is made that he is none other than Jack Clifford, the boxer, then enlightenment breaks over us.

Jack Clifford, or Jack Tenberth, as the official scorer will henceforth designate him, knows how to use his fists, and it is said that he is better at baseball than he is in the ring.

Tenberth was in uniform and occupied a space on Oakland's bench at Idora Park yesterday afternoon, but was given no chance to break into the game.

Tenberth can play any infield position but his particular forte is behind the bat. He has been secured to take the place of Jimmy Byrnes, who has a lovely crop of boils and will be unable to wear the mask for weeks to come, so his M. D. says.

Jack Clifford, or rather Tenberth, made his last appearance in the ring when he fought Jack Cordell last month at Grass Valley. He has played baseball in minor organizations for some years and is said to be there.

The management of the Oakland Baseball Club will also go outside of the bushes for new players. There are at the present time over a dozen letters of inquiry out in the hope of securing talent.

A director of the club stated that every effort would be made to bring the pennant for the second half to Oakland, and that no small sum of money would be expended to land the rag here.

The Oakland management has a chance to obtain a couple of stars, but up to the present time has refused to complete the deal until an understanding is reached whereby the new material will not be drafted away at the opening of next year's season.

A considerable sum of money is being expended by the directors of the Oakland Baseball Club in this city. Thousands of dollars is being put out in salaries and the players are always requested by the management to spend their money with the local merchants whenever possible.

The town itself is given lots of Eastern advertising by the fact that it possesses a baseball team, as local merchants, who have gone East and mingled there to any extent will testify.

Hence it is up to the merchants of Oakland to support the team by attending games and advertising in the baseball program and other means proffered by the directors of the club.

The championship of the baseball team cannot be given to Oakland unless there is money in the club's treasury to pay for the services of good players. The directors are willing to spend the money for the best talent obtainable, and it is up to the merchants to benefit themselves by lending their support to the local team.

It is probable that Henry Schmidt, Oakland's $325 pitcher, who was suspended for one month on account of his unprovoked attack on his team-mate, Pitcher Hogan, will not again put on an Oakland uniform.

Schmidt has a certain amount of stubbornness and it is said that he is not by any means satisfied with the treatment of the directors, however well deserved his punishment appears to others, and that he will work this season out in the California State League. Schmidt attended yesterday's game on the local ground.

The second half of the season started badly for Oakland. The locals and the people from Portland met out at Idora Park and it took twelve innings to settle the dispute, the northerners winning out by a score of 2 to 1.

Art Kruger made his first appearance on station No. 1, while Hogan did duty out in right garden. Kruger was too anxious to cover the ground in the vicinity of his position, and the result was that he made a couple of errors.

Hamberg sent the slow ball over for Oakland, while Esick performed the pitching duty for Portland. Both were BILL DEVEREAUX, who registered Oakland's first run in the second half of the season.

Hit by pitcher—Devereaux. Double play—Esick to Atz to Van Buren. Time of game—2 1/2 hr. Umpire—Bray.

In fine form. The local man struck out six and Esick sent five away to the bench.

The first and only run for Oakland was made by Bill Devereaux, whose singled to left field, stole second and came home on Stanley's drive to center field.

The unmentionable Mr. Bray is still acting, or rather attempting to act, as umpire.

The intention was for Jim McDonald to return to the game yesterday, but at the last moment word was sent over that Jim was sick and probably would not be able to hold the indicator until next Sunday. Hence "Hee Haw" was allowed to remain a while.

He came very near getting killed off, however, in the eleventh inning. He called an Oakland man safe at second, and this so angered Atz and Esick that both jumped on Bray, the one pulling his nose and the other attempting to rip his shirt off his back.

Every player in the Portland team, with the exception of McLean, surrounded the helpless umpire (?) and subjected him to some sort of humiliation. Bray, however, allowed them to go ahead and made no effort to quiet the players by imposing fines as would "Dangerous" Davis. Not even a player was sent from the field.

It is a good thing for the game that we are not going to have Mr. Bray with us long.

OLD LEAGUERS LOSE THIS GAME

To settle a long-standing quarrel as to superiority in baseball, the Berkeley Merchants team played a match game on the St. Mary's College campus Sunday afternoon with the Old Leaguers team.

Victory rested with the Berkeley Merchants at the end of the game. The score was 7 to 5.

The teams were composed of the following players: Berkeley—Merchants—Hampton, Connolly, Bush, Whittam, Smith, Eshel, Martin, Rose, J. Bush, Old Leaguers—Whalen, Mills, Plasmings, Conger, Patterson, Grayson, Kenkins, O'Connell, Blodgett.

M'LEAN OF PORTLAND BEHAVES LIKE A BOY

PORTLAND, August 2.—In addition to what he must have lost at the track, it cost John McLean a cool $50 for the pleasure of attending the Irvington game, instead of participating in the ball game at the Vaughan street grounds.

Like the Arab of old, McLean folded his tent and silently stole away. He did not even leave a calling card as a remembrance, nor did he, so report goes, inform his wife of a few weeks ago to his destination. Whether it was a sudden outbreak on the part of the Portland catcher, or a deliberately planned scheme to show his value, is not known. The main feature, however, is the fact that he gave no notice that he would fail to be at the game. Instead, he took French leave and left the team up in the air.

Should any ordinary man working on a salary attempt a trick of the same caliber, it would not merely be a fine. He would lose a job, if it were a job worth while. Your baseball player thinks he has special privileges.

He never thinks of the public that is paying his good money to see a ball game, and that a factor, for his employer, who surely have some claim on his services. If he wants to take a vacation, he takes it, and the ball game can go hang. As a matter of fact, the absence of McLean from the game cost Portland the contest. With the big catcher on hand, Seattle would not also have stood much of a show. It will cost the club something, for there are many fans, disgusted by the performance, who will stay away for several days.

There is absolutely no excuse for McLean. It is understood that he is inclined to protest because he has to catch all the games, but that does not give him the right to "throw down" the team.

THIS FOR HOUSEHOLDER.

And this is for the benefit of Eddie Householder, center fielder on the Portland team. While "Slats" Davis was off on some of his balls and strikes last Friday, there was never a man struck out, if it was not Householder, toward the close of the game. With the team four runs behind, Householder, tried to wait for a walk, instead of hitting the ball. Did he imagine for a moment that the pitcher would pass him to first? When he was called out he acted the child and began to make a protest. Further, when he went to the field, Householder continued his nagging and rowdy tactics, applying some language to the umpire that could not be otherwise than resented. He naturally ordered Householder off the field, and the latter delayed the game by first walking to the bleachers and then stopping the game until Householder left.

Fans will not take kindly to such actions, and Householder will speedily discover that he is lacking in popularity, if he proposes to keep up that plan. If he is right, and Householder was wrong, Portlanders want to win games, but they want to take them the right way. The umpire's actions to report the outfielder's actions to the league, and it is quite probable that the league will see to it that some further discipline is handed out to the offending ballplayer.

GREAT GAMBLING BEE IS ON AT SARATOGA

NEW YORK, August 2.—Saratoga's gambling fever has reached a stage of delirium. The conversation of hotel piazzas drifts almost invariably to the race track and clubhouses, and incidentally to thousands won or lost in the betting ring or at faro and roulette tables.

There is certainly no other resort on the continent where so many persons gather for no other purpose than the excitement of making wagers. While there have been occasional visits of righteousness which have resulted in the closing of the clubs, there has invariably been a strong reaction. Public sentiment is now in favor of an open season.

Many leading citizens bewail the fact that it is not possible to have a privileged Monte Carlo here, with the Saratoga Clubhouse open, and other resorts closed, but there seems to be no way to grant the monopoly now to the great delight of the sporting fraternity that assembles. Most taxpayers take the stand that it is better to have many gambling houses than none.

Little fear is entertained that Governor Higgins will interfere, as his predecessors in office including President Roosevelt, have all deemed it good policy to give free rein to the officials of the Saratoga country. The fact that the Governor was again quoted this afternoon as having no official knowledge of the situation is taken as indicating that he will follow the precedent.

On every hand it is predicted that unless the lid is forced down Saratoga will have the greatest season in its history, and that the accommodations for lodging and feeding will be overtaxed. While few of the wealthy speculators here have made any sensational or speculative plays, there has been very heavy gambling by professionals.

PARSONS, THE SPRINTER, PROVES A SURPRISE

PORTLAND, August 2.—With but two years as a sprinter, and none too much training, Charlie Parsons, the Southern California boy, who is here for the A. A. U. championship meet early in August, is looked upon as a comer in the world of short-distance men. Dressed in civilian's clothes, he does not impress one as being able to negotiate the 100 or the 200 in anything like championship time, but it is when he is stripped, ready for track work, that you can see he is built for running.

He is but 22 years of age, and most of his life has been spent in California. He did not know his own ability as a runner until two years ago. He was in the prep school of the University of Southern California and commenced to play football. He lost all the men he met in competition, and the trainer urged him to go out for the track team. The University had a man who was heralded as a comer, but Parsons, without knowing the first principles of the starting race, beat him to the tape. He made the 100 in 10 flat and the 200 in 22 1-5. That proved him a born runner.

FOOLS CHASTISE. He was taken to Central California to run against Snedigar, crack man of the University of California. Trainer Christy looked over the boy and passed him by with a smile, as if to say that it was simply another funny sensation. But the smile froze on the trainer's face when he saw what Parsons could do.

The young fellow is eligible to both the junior and the senior championships. He proposes to drop the quarter-mile, for he says that when it comes to going against such sprinters as Halsey of Michigan and Blair of Chicago he needs to husband his strength and not attempt to capture too many honors all at one time.

HE IS IN condition now and weighs about 175 pounds, all solid flesh and muscle. "Moulton, the Stanford trainer, will look after me," he said. "He thinks he can improve my starting, and if he can do that I will have a chance against the Eastern boys who are coming. I think my best race is the 220, and I will train with that in view more particularly than anything else."

He is undecided whether he will enter the Stanford University coming year or go East. Parsons would be welcome to any university in the land because of his ability as a sprinter. He has done the 100 in 9 3/4-5.

GOVERNOR AND KID M'COY IS JEFFRIES TO HUNT AGAIN

RENO, Nev., August 2.—Early next week, or as soon as Governor John Sparks can return from a business trip to Texas, he is going on a bear hunt to Grizzly valley, the lair of the cinnamon in the Sierra Nevada mountains. He will be accompanied by James Jeffries, the retired champion heavyweight pugilist, and, in addition, a number of Nevada's most prominent citizens will be along.

A pack of hounds will comprise a portion of the outfit, and the aim is to remain away about three weeks, the time to be spent exclusively in search of large game, bears preferred. The trip is the result of plans made during the visit of Jeffries to Reno several weeks ago, when he acted as referee in the fight between Jeffries and the Governor for the first time, an intimate friendship sprang up, and the hunt next week will be the result.

ED SMITH TO ACT AS REFEREE

Referee Ed Smith of this city will go to Sacramento tomorrow to referee the fight between Hart and Burke, which is to be held under the auspices of the Hoffman Athletic Club tomorrow evening in the Old Pavilion.

The Hoffman Athletic Club has several good matches in the bag, and is cutting quite a caper in the capital city.

Are agonizingly relieved and perfectly healed by Buckner's Arnica Salve. C. Rivenbark, Jr. of Norfolk, Va., writes: "I turned my knee dreadfully. The Arnica salve I had over Buckner's Arnica Salve stopped the pain, and healed it without a scar. Also healed all wounds and sprains at Osgood's drug store, Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington streets."

NEW YORK, August 2.—Kid McCoy, in an interview this week, said that he will not box Jeff until he weighs 300 pounds. "Now the talk all around the country is that Jeff has had too much weight for the men he has met," said McCoy. "That's just what I want him to have. The fighters say 'Oh, look at the size of him; no one has a chance with such a bull in the ring. Why, he is as big as an elephant, and you can't hurt him.' Well, for me," said McCoy, "he's not big enough. I am waiting until Jeff gets into the 300-pound class, and then I am going to challenge him. That would be the biggest clinch in the world for me. I wish he would take on about fifty or sixty pounds, and then you would see me post a forfeit that same week for a fight."

"You know he surely will get to be that size, and the sooner the better for me. I'd fight him in a minute at that weight," said McCoy. "Oh, look at the size and rolling in the grass. Will put weight on him before he knows it, and the first thing when that comes through will be Jeff's slow training. On the level, he'll be too fat to train and won't be able to get out of his own way. Let him alone for a while and then watch me."

KEEP OUT THE JAPANESE

MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE TAKES AN INTEREST IN JAPANESE LEAGUE.

Representatives of the Japanese, Korean and Chinese Exclusion League of this county visited the Merchants' Exchange by special invitation last evening to explain the aims and objects of that organization. The exchange had previously appointed a special committee to investigate the league and had been having received an invitation to send delegates to the league.

The chairman of this special committee, Director Lea, stated that he had attended the meeting of the Exclusion League last Friday night and had had the movement explained to him. He had then invited the president and secretary of the league to the Merchants' Exchange, to attend last evening's meeting to present the matter to the exchange also. He then introduced Messrs. Marshall and Madden.

On being called upon Secretary Madden presented a statement in regard to the formation of the Exclusion League, as has already been set forth in these columns. It was the purpose of the league, he said, to gather statistics about the Japanese in this country in order that the same might be presented to the government with a view to the enactment of laws to check the influx of these immigrants, who threatened to do great injury to the business and trade of this country and lower the standard of living.

Present Marshall of the league also made a few remarks in which he said that as yet the movement was only in a tentative stage. He stated that the league was threatened by the influx of Japanese. The speaker said that the members of the exchange were perfectly aware of conditions here and the people of the state did not appreciate the dangers because they were unfamiliar with the subject. It was the duty of the people of this coast to enlighten those of the East on this subject.

The speaker said that the Japanese had shown in the war with Russia that they were able to cope with any opposition. This was the reason why the study of the Occidental nations. The Japanese would, the speaker said, soon assimilate the ways of the American people in the industrial field and would menace all branches of trade and business. The Japanese were not bound by traditional ideas as the Chinese were, and therefore, were more of a menace than the Chinese.

The speaker added that the Exclusion League was not only against the influx of Japanese, Koreans and Chinese, but also against the objectionable European immigrants who came here with anarchistic ideas. It had placed an article in its constitution to this effect.

In closing Mr. Marshall invited the directors of the exchange to attend the meeting of the league on Friday evening next, saying he would like to have representatives of the exchange on the committees to be appointed.

Secretary Walker said that the broad question to be considered was as to whether the league was a movement desired to affiliate in the movement. The members individually, of course, had a perfect right to join it, but said it was a matter to be settled.

Director Williams stated he thought more members of the directorate than the three on the committee should attend the meeting of the league Friday evening.

Director Lea said that he believed that they all realized that what Mr. Marshall said was true—that the influx of Japanese was becoming a serious menace and it was a problem that the United States would have to settle. It should be settled before the present war is ended. He moved that the committee of the exchange be increased to five members.

The motion was carried and Directors Hoffman and Sanborn were added to the committee before the meeting adjourned. Directors Lea, Williams and Davidson. The invitation to attend Friday evening's meeting of the Exclusion League was accepted.

UNIVERSITY MAN TO EAT BRAINS== TOADSTOOLS BEAUTY 'STABBER' MILLER HELD LIGHTS TURNED ON AT SAN LEANDRO TO ANSWER

Thomas Gilbert Thinks the Superstition Should be Proved Silly.

BERKELEY, August 2.—Scientists at the State University, and particularly those from Europe who are in attendance at the Summer School are intensely interested in the case of Thomas Gilbert, an employee of the University who declares his willingness to eat any sort of toadstools or mushrooms that grow in California, in order to disprove the prevalent notion that toadstools are dangerous. "Bring on your toadstools" cries Gilbert.

There is no bravado in Gilbert's tone or manner in making this declaration of belief in the soundness and healthfulness of California mushrooms. He is no fledgling, or callow youth, seeking notoriety. His words have been duly weighed. He knows what he is talking about.

It is expected that before the Summer School closes and all the savants have left that Gilbert's challenge will be accepted and a mass of toadstools cooked up for him to eat.

Should this be done, the experiment, novel and quite unique unquestionably would attract a vast deal of attention and focus all eyes on the University while the experiment was being tried. Mr. Gilbert is care taker of the botanical building on the University Campus. He is a man of about 45 years,

University Girl Who Shows She Has Both.

MISS ALMA BARNETT.

BERKELEY, Aug. 2.—The old idea that plain girls make the best scholars or the best school teachers is being exploded these days, and one of the dynamic cartridges that help to shatter the old superstition is furnished by Miss Alma Barnett.

Friends in Berkeley of Miss Barnett have been informed of her success as a High School teacher at Hollister, where she has been engaged for the coming year at a fancy salary and they are delighted to hear of it.

Miss Barnett was rated as the prettiest girl in the University last year. She graduated in May, with the class of '05. Her beauty was not the only quality that was admirable in her make up, however.

Alma Barnett was smart. She ranked at the head of her class in scholarship, with the single exception of Miss Jewett, who was the class medalist. Miss Barnett won a scholarship that will be available whenever she chooses to use it, as a result of her brilliant showing in the University. She has begun to show her mettle in the ranks of High School teachers.

Pretty is that pretty does—and Alma Barnett has both strings to her bow.

'STABBER' MILLER HELD LIGHTS TURNED ON AT SAN LEANDRO TO ANSWER

A LAMEDA, August 2.—The preliminary hearing of Reuben O. Miller, who is known as "Stabber" Miller, who slashed his wife, Frances Miller, in the face two years ago, while in a Park street hotel, took place yesterday afternoon before Judge F. S. Cono. Miller was represented by Attorney George W. Rose of San Francisco, while Deputy District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes handled the case for the people.

The first witness was Mrs. Frances Miller, the wife of the accused, and the woman who was made the object of her husband's wrath. She testified as to her retelling on the night of the assault and the immaterial conversation that had taken place between herself and husband. Without warning he had turned upon her and slashed her seven times with a pocket knife. The wounds were principally on the temple and the wrist. She positively identified the knife with which the deed was done.

Officer William Walmuth testified to being called to the hotel because of the disturbance. He told of Mrs. Miller being covered with blood from the open wounds, and upon asking Miller why he had committed the assault the defendant replied that his wife had been drinking and carousing around and that he had cut her.

Dr. Stidham, the health officer of Alameda, who attended the woman after the assault, testified to the number and the gravity of the wounds inflicted. He gave it as his opinion that none of the wounds would have proved fatal unless blood poisoning had set in.

John Buttery, A. Groome and T. J. Murray testified to the condition of Mrs. Miller after her husband had slashed her.

The defense did not produce any witnesses. The Court held Miller over to the Superior Court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. The bail was fixed at $1000 cash, or $2000 bonds. Miller was taken back to the county jail yesterday afternoon.

Country Town Was Brilliantly Illuminated Last Night--Plans for the Big Fair.

I. B. URY, OF THE COMMITTEE W. E. FULTON OF THE CONCESSION COMMITTEE.

SAN LEANDRO, August 2.—The festival lights were turned on here last night and the town was brilliantly illuminated. The committee and the people were well pleased with the showing. The Native Sons fair promises to be a large success next week. It will last three days.

"GRAFT" AN EVIL RECORD IS BAD

BERKELEY, August 2.—Professor Graham Taylor of the Chicago University believes that San Francisco might imitate to advantage the Municipal League, which, he declares, has worked wonders in improving civic conditions in Chicago. In a lecture delivered at the summer school of theology today Professor Taylor spoke of "The spirit and sphere of citizenship," and in this connection referred to the "graft" in American cities and measures that might be used to check it.

Professor Taylor said that the most serious danger to citizenship is the business corporation ideal. In Chicago, he asserted, it is a known fact that the traction companies, who buy everything they want in the city, have had a more deteriorating effect upon the people than all the saloons and disorderly houses. Concluding his lecture Professor Taylor said:

"The great need in municipalities today is the emancipation of political administration from commercial exploitation and partisan spoils. We in Chicago have partially solved the difficulty by means of the Municipal Voters' League. A few years ago fifty-eight of the sixty-eight Aldermen were known to be thieves, robbers and criminals. Today, out of seventy Aldermen, but ten are suspected of being anything but strictly honest and honorable, and these ten are not notorious. This is a reform that is needed throughout the land in all American cities, and I judge that such a league would work wonders in San Francisco."

FEE IS DISPUTED

School Board Discusses the Matter.

BERKELEY, August 2.—At an adjourned meeting of the Board of Education last evening, Supervising Architect A. H. Broad was present and gave his approval of the plans submitted by Dickey & Reed for correcting the mistake in the original plans regarding the sanitary system of the Lincoln School. The plans were accepted on his recommendation and Clerk C. S. Merrill was authorized to advertise for bids on the work, to be in by the next meeting of the board. The change will cost $663.

The question of demanding a High School fee in strict accordance with the State law from the North Berkeley school was also discussed. The board decided that non-residents, whether the family lives here and owns property or not, provoked a lively question. A Mr. Nichols appeared before the board and stated that his family had lived here for five years and he owned a lot in North Berkeley on which he intended to build, but he had not cared to register here as he had political and business interests in Placer county. He wanted to know whether he would have to pay the tuition fee. President Veit informed him that he would have to pay it, as the law distinctly states "the residence of the father" and not the family residence. Mr. Nichols declared that he was objecting with the law in all questions and made no exceptions.

Superintendent of Schools S. D. Waterman brought up a number of cases on which he asked the advice of the board. One was a case of a boy named John, who was employed by the government, where he did not lose his residence on matter where he might be. The father must be a resident of Berkeley or else the tuition fee must be paid.

A storm of protest has arisen over the strict enforcement of this law. There are several hundred families in this town where the head of the household is employed elsewhere, though maintaining the family home here. On account of the exceptional educational advantages of Berkeley many people come here and build handsome homes so that their children can be educated, spending their money here, and to all intent and purpose becoming residents, though the head of the household is not registered here. The board is objecting strongly to the payment of the fee.

UNITARIAN CLUB.

ALAMEDA, August 2.—The Unitarian Club will reopen its doors this evening after its usual summer vacation, and will welcome such guests, ladies and gentlemen, as are invited by the club. The feature of the evening's entertainment will be an illustrated lecture by Edwin Emerson, rough rider, war correspondent and literary man, who will give his experiences at Fort Arthur during the siege of the Cuban campaign. Afterwards he went as a war correspondent to the seat of war in the Far East. He saw service in the field with both contending armies, and possesses the distinction of being the only correspondent who really reached the scene of hostilities.

The music of the evening will be in harmony with the lecture. Miss Pearl T. Hossack will render several Russian songs, and Miss Ethel Duke will give a piano recital from a well known Russian composer. Miss Hossack is said to be one of the few American artists who can sing Russian songs in the original. Her voice is a rich, full contralto, and has been well trained. For two years she has been a soloist in the Russian Cathedral in

ARE MARRIED.

ALAMEDA, August 2.—The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Lorentzen, a popular Alameda teacher, and James H. Hughes, principal of the Merced High School, took place yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. P. H. Lorentzen, 2115 Clinton avenue. Rev. Father T. J. O'Connell, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's church, officiated, and only immediate relatives of the couple were in attendance to witness the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes departed for Palo Alto and to spend the honeymoon, and upon their return will reside in Merced.

PLEADS GUILTY.

ALAMEDA, August 2.—L. Sprague, formerly an employe of the Pacific States Telephone Company, pleaded guilty yesterday morning in Judge Hughes' court to a charge of battery. He is accused of beating Wong Chung, a Chinese laundryman living on Blanding avenue. The man seeing that the evidence was overwhelming after the Chinese gave his testimony, answered guilty to the charge. Judge Tappan put the case over until 9 a. m. to give defendant time to put in some attestations as to his previous good character, when sentence will be passed.

Mrs. Merrill Miller of Berkeley is spending a few days at the Mare Island navy yard, where she is a guest at the home of Commander and Mrs. Edmund E. Miller. Mrs. Ramsey of Berkeley was in Richmond Saturday with her splendid new touring car. She was giving the machine a try-out and found it to work extremely satisfactory. Mrs. Ramsey is the wife of the Berkeley-Tenopha capitalist. Mrs. Porter and Miss Amy Porter are still lingering at the Berkeley Inn and are not to return to San Francisco for some weeks. They have been interested workers of the summer school and have availed themselves of all the lectures and extra half hours which the University course has extended.

OLD SORES ROOTED IN THE BLOOD

Old Sores are the result of a deeply polluted, foul blood supply. They are filled with poisons, and as it finds an outlet through the ulcer, the surrounding parts become diseased and the sore eats deeper into the tissues and flesh and becomes a permanent trouble.

Some years ago while at work, I fell over a truck and severely injured both my shins. My blood became poisoned as a result, and the doctor told me I had to have running sores for life, and that if they were closed up the result would be fatal. Under this discouraging report I laid off my work and resorted to the use of S. S. S. Its effects were prompt and gratifying. It took only a short while for the medicine entirely cure up the sores, and I am not dead as the doctors intimated. I would be neither have the sores ever broken out again, and some twelve years have elapsed since what I have described occurred. Having been so signally benefited by its use I can heartily recommend it as the one great blood purifier.

W. F. FORDIS, Care Schmalzback Brewing Co.

Salves, powders, plasters, etc. do no good, and the sufferer gets disgusted and desponds of curing an old sore. The trouble is in the blood and until the poisonous matter that is keeping up the ulcer is driven out the place cannot heal. S. S. S. reaches these old sores through the blood by removing every particle of poison or impurity from the circulation and building up the system. It makes the blood healthy so that as it circulates to the diseased parts the tissues are strengthened and the sore can heal naturally and permanently. If you have an old sore or ulcer do not waste time with salves, powders, plasters, etc., but write for our book and ask for any medical advice you wish. We make no charge for either.

WOMEN MEET

Home Missionary Society in Session.

ELMHURST, August 2.—A large number of women were present yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Home Missionary Society at the parlors of the Presbyterian Church. An interesting program of readings, recitations and papers by the members occupied the afternoon. The chief number was a talk by Mrs. Gamble of Hayward, who is a paid worker for the society. She told of the large tracts of California where there are no churches or Sunday schools, and where the people are often in the most destitute circumstances.

Means for sending aid to those deprived of spiritual comforts were discussed, and preparations begun for an active campaign of assistance, moral and financial.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, Mrs. E. E. Clark, the pastor's wife, served light refreshments to the assembled guests.

FATHER VORKE TELLS OF IRELAND

East Oakland Pastor Visits Cork -- What He Saw on an Excursion.

The following letter from Rev. Father Peter C. Vorke, pastor of St. Anthony's Church in East Oakland, who is now in Ireland, appears in the San Francisco Leader:

CORK, July 3, 1905.

Naturally our first anxiety on arriving in Ireland was to find out what progress was being made by the Gaelic League. On the little train that took us into Queenstown, Father Lyons discovered a new dealer, a man born of Irish parents in Glasgow, who proudly told us he was struggling through the fifth book of O'Connell. From him we learned that there was quite a demand for Gaelic literature, and that, though Queenstown was hopelessly cosmopolitan and Cork apathetic, there was a great deal of real good work going on in both places.

AT CORK.

We arrived in Cork at midnight, and while taking supper put our waders on the rack. He had heard of the Gaelic League, but declared true nationality to be dead in Cork. This meant, as we afterward discovered, that there had just been a by-election for the city, and that the streets were clean, the shop windows well furnished, and far more young people going hither and thither than one would expect. On the shop signs we saw now and again the old Irish letters, in the windows we observed more frequently the words that the goods on display are of Irish manufacture. The book stalls are full of Gaelic publications, and altogether there is many an outward sign that Cork is not out of the Gaelic race.

TAKE A TRIP.

We have been reading so much about the Festsanna or Gaelic League celebrations that we are quite anxious to attend one. We notice in the advertisements that on Sunday there is to be a great Fests in Mitchelstown, in the north of the county, and that an excursion train goes from Cork. Sunday proved a beautiful day--indeed, while there has been some rain, the weather has been in the public school every day. This the children eyes of the Irish sun had seen long ago, and their self-sacrificing hearts had supplied the remedy.

The children are a delight. They may be as poor as Job's turkey, but they are as small as the angels. God has given them a great endowment, and the Irish teaching by the Gaelic League is making them understand and remember. We must bear in mind in this regard that these children never heard Irish at home.

Sister Angela is the teacher of singing and dance and got out of the girls is a revelation. And then the dancing. They have two all-Ireland prize dances, and it was a joy to see the spirit of the gods of Olympus to see their feet scintillating like the little waves in the sea. It was a clean strand and the tide was in.

Of course I have seen only a little, but the little I have seen gives me an idea of the great work that is going on. I am told many things, but I am going to write to you only what I can guarantee.

Of course I have seen only a little, but the little I have seen gives me an idea of the great work that is going on. I am told many things, but I am going to write to you only what I can guarantee.

SOBER CROWD.

The railroad on which we were is a part of the Great Southern and Western. This line has been nicknamed the Great Surface Railway, because all its profitable berths are manned by Protestants. The majority of the stockholders are Catholic, and the Gaelic League have been protesting loudly against the way in which the company does its business. Hence one would not be surprised if the officials should connive at anything to make it uncomfortable for the Gaelic League.

There must have been over 5,000 persons gathered in Mitchelstown, and a finer, more sober or more orderly crowd it would be hard to find. We saw one drunken man, and he was a red-coated English soldier--for there is a big summer camp on the hills near by, and the country is infested with the "relies of the Boers."

"Quilias Danaum 'atque immitis Achillis!"

The Fests was held in the open air, in a field surrounded by a high stone wall, such as one sees on the outskirts of the Irish towns. There were four platforms, one for dancing, one for music, one for recitations, one for story telling, one for examinations in the language. The crowd moved from platform to platform as the speaker addressed them. Standing to one side and taking in the whole scene, it was marvellously picturesque. The sky had become overcast. We were on the slopes almost of Galtee Mor. The clouds lay like great dozes on the sides of the top-most ridge. The green woods of Erin rose before us, line behind line, like the ranks of an army, and there, amidst merry folk and amidst tears, twinkling to the lively hit of the jig or hornpipe, the young men sending out in the midnight air their southern Gaelic greetings to Patrick Sarsfield or the son of King James, while the old story teller sat in front of a group who, with sparkling eyes and tense faces, listened to one of the folk tales or old sagas that have their action on these very slopes and in these very rivers, and were told round the hearth of the Gael before Romulus built his city on the Palatine and while Homer's songs were still new in the islands of the Aegean sea.

What is still more marvellous is that all this is the work of the past six years. There were three other Festsanna going on in different parts of Ireland that Sunday, and almost every day in the summer is signalized somewhere by some language celebration, the whole series culminating in the Great Dublin Oireachtas, where the best of all Ireland meet in competition. Surely, there has been a wonderful change. Poor Hughan O'Grawney is lying at rest in the cemetery of Maynooth, but the spirit which he did so much to evoke is marching on to victory.

THE NUNS.

The following day we called at the North Presentation Convent, Cork. The invitation of Sister Angela, Father Casey's sister, and there we saw another of the forces making for Irish Ireland. I well remember a time when to speak of teaching Irish would cast condemnation into any properly regulated Irish convent, but here, behold, here was Irish in full swing. The convent is situated in one of the poorest districts of the city, and the Presentation Nuns, true to the spirit of their foundress, devote themselves especially to the welfare of the most neglected class. The Rector, Mother told me that they have to give breakfast every morning to hundreds of the children. Only now the rich cities of London and New York are awaking to the fact that thousands of underfed youngsters are herded in the public schools every day. This the Christian eyes of the Irish sun had seen long ago, and their self-sacrificing hearts had supplied the remedy.

Sister Angela is the teacher of singing and dance and got out of the girls is a revelation. And then the dancing. They have two all-Ireland prize dances, and it was a joy to see the spirit of the gods of Olympus to see their feet scintillating like the little waves in the sea. HE FEARS THE MAKE AUTO SAFE CAPTAIN DRAKE'S DENIAL

M. WITTE THINKS NEGOTIATIONS WILL END IN A WEEK.

DON C. MCCORD WOULD HAVE STATED RULES FOLLOWED BY DRIVERS.

NEW YORK, August 2.--A staff correspondent of the Herald on board the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse sends his paper the following dispatch by wireless telegraph:

"M. Witte, the Russian envoy, said Tuesday night: 'I am afraid that negotiations will be ended within a week, as the Japanese conditions will be so intolerable as not to admit of discussion.'"

ON BOARD STEAMSHIP KAISER WILHELM DER GROSSE, via wireless telegraph station at Salsomaggiore, Mass., August 2.--After a good passage across the Atlantic, Sergius Witte, Russia's envoy to the peace conference with the Japanese representatives at Portsmouth, N. H., is in perfect health.

Speaking of his approaching arrival on American soil, Mr. Witte said:

"I am happy to visit America, which country I am most anxious to know. My only regret is that I cannot speak English, as I should like thoroughly to appreciate the country whose progress and development are so interesting and instructive."

"I shall also be glad to have personal intercourse with President Roosevelt, who has held such a prominent position as a statesman, and to present him the greetings of Emperor Nicholas. It has been stated that I am to test the ground for floating a Russian loan in America and discuss the relations between the two countries, especially regarding commercial affairs. My only mission is the negotiations for peace, but I am quite ready to express my personal opinion on questions affecting the relations between Russia and America with a view to further strengthening the traditional friendly feeling between St. Petersburg and Washington."

There seems to be a determined effort on the part of farmers in this country to regulate automobile riding in the country. It is hard to compel drivers of autos to obey set rules, and it is just as difficult to induce drivers of vehicles to follow the ordinary rules of the road.

Don C. McCord, one of the champion auto drivers of California, in discussing the subject, said:

"There is no danger driving an auto at top speed if a man keeps his head and knows his machine. My Cadillac machine can make fifty-five miles an hour on the ordinary road and there is not the slightest danger as long as the other fellow obeys the simple rules of driving."

One great trouble we have to contend against is the 'fool' drivers of vehicles. When a machine follows a vehicle and is about to pass it, we always turn out to the left. The fool driver invariably wants to turn out to the left, and this is the cause of a number of accidents.

"A person driving a horse should always keep on the right side of the road, and when an auto wants to pass it should always turn out to the left. If this rule was strictly obeyed there would be fewer accidents."

"The auto has come to stay and rules must be made and obeyed that will make the road safe for all concerned."

Says Boiler Valve Of Bennington Was Not Clogged.

SAN DIEGO, August 2.--A story appearing in a number of papers to the effect that an unnamed workman had asserted that he had found the safety valve of the boiler on the Bennington all clogged up so that it wouldn't have blown off at 500 pounds pressure is emphatically denied by the officers of the gunboat and by those who have been conducting the investigation here since the explosion.

Captain Drake, whose report should have reached Washington yesterday, declared that he was in a position to know that the safety valve was not clogged, and that he was not in a position to talk until his report had been made public in Washington. Captain Drake characterized the story as false, and declared that the safety valves and all the other machinery has been tested often and the regulations followed ever since he has been in command of the ship.

Captain F. J. Drake stated that the Navy Department has practically decided to erect a superb shaft at the military cemetery at Fort Seward in memory of the Bennington dead. The monument will probably be a single column of some beautiful stone. Bronze plates bearing the names of each of the dead seamen will be placed on the shaft. This plan of the Government interferes in no way with that advanced by the public. Captain Drake, who came here from Mare Island on the day after the disaster, has been ordered to return home and will leave in the morning for San Francisco.

Admiral Goodrich has issued an order directing Chaplain Arthur Stone of the Chapin to make a careful investigation of the disaster on the Bennington on new lines. In part of the order he says:

"In order to secure a record of the many acts of heroism on the occasion of the late accident to the United States steamship Bennington you are hereby appointed a board for the purpose mentioned. You will include the officers and crew of the Bennington and such others personally cognizant of such deeds whom you may be able to reach. You will furthermore ascertain the names of the persons, societies or organizations of any nature on shore who rendered notable service to the Bennington's wounded that day and report them and the attending facts."

The court of inquiry, which is hearing evidence in the disaster to the gunboat Bennington resumed its session at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning behind closed doors. No one but witnesses is admitted to the meetings and no report of the proceedings will be made until the final report is submitted, and then, probably, only after transmission to Washington. It is understood that a portion of the report will deal with the alleged shortage of officers on the Bennington, to which reference was made by Commander Young in his report. The young officer, which is likely to destroy the fine record we have made for this vessel, and to keep up the standard I must have two more experienced officers."

Ensign Charles T. Wade, chief engineer of the Bennington, had not even a warrant officer's rank, and was ordered to assist him in the discharge of his duties.

The Bennington is again at anchor in the stream and most of her men who are fit for duty have been transferred to the Chicago, from which, after the return to San Francisco, they will be assigned to other vessels in the Pacific squadron. Men from the Chicago will be put to work cleaning up the gunboat, removing damaged stores. The Bennington probably will remain here until the court of inquiry completes its work and then will be towed north by the flagship.

All of the injured sailors remaining at Agnew Sanatorium have been removed to the Barnard Hospital, where there are now fifty-three of the Bennington's men. Those who are still in a serious condition are Sergeant Muhler and Sullivan. Dr. Brown, surgeon of the Chicago, has been assigned to the Barnard Hospital, and Dr. W. S. Horn of the cruiser Marblehead has reported for duty on the flagship.

GRADERS AT WORK ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED ON NEW ROAD

MANY MEN BUSY ON NORTHERN SHIP CHANNEL CONNECTING LAKE SUPERIOR AND LOWER LAKES.

OROVILLE, August 2.--Work has begun upon the Northern Electric Railway and the preliminary wagonroad building for construction purposes of the Western Pacific Company in this section is also under way. The contract for the grading of the Northern Electric Railroad was let in San Francisco a few days ago, and no time has been lost in getting men and teams upon the ground to work. Already eighty men and 120 mules, with ready-made tools, have begun work on the Goodspeed lands near Durham. The road is twenty-seven miles long and the grading must be completed by November 1. The only difficult part to build is a long bridge and trestle across the Feather River west of Oroville. Work on this will begin soon.

The Western Pacific Company has let no contracts for building a wagon road up the Feather river, but is doing the work itself. Already about 400 men are employed on this work between what is known as Twelve-mile Camp and Granite Creek. The work is to be pushed through the mountains by the construction of a new railroad line to be done.

A new bridge is being built across the middle fork seven miles from Oroville. The road is completed to the bridge and also for a number of miles up the north fork. At present, however, teams from Oroville have to follow the old route to the Berry Creek Ranch and Bidwell Bar to Twelve-mile Camp. Roads lead down from the Berry Creek Mountain House ridge to the river, and at several points supplies are being hauled to camps on the river.

Giant powder is being used largely, and a single camp uses 1000 pounds a week. The men are engaged for the use of the animals on the river during the fall and winter, and immense supplies of provisions will be hauled to the same location.

The men are divided into different camps under engineers along the river. The small camps have twenty men each and the largest one has eighty. The men are working up and down stream at eighteen places.

It is believed that the road is to be a permanent one and will connect Butte and Plumas counties.

Surveyors are at work a few miles south of Oroville locating the Western Pacific line between Oroville and Marysville. Several surveys have been made, but it is not believed that any definite line has been selected.

The people of Oroville are planning a grand celebration when the Northern Electric is completed. It will have a two-fold object, one to mark the completion of the electric railroad between Oroville and Chico, and the other to celebrate the beginning of real work on the Western Pacific.

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., August 2.--The Sault Ste Marie ship canal, the fifteenth anniversary of the opening of which was celebrated today, was completed by the State of Michigan in 1855. This ship channel, the connecting link between Lake Superior and the Lower Lakes was transferred to the United States government in 1870. Since the government took charge of the waterway, vast improvements have been undertaken, the canal having been widened and deepened several times. It is now considered the busiest of the world's artificial waterways. In 1858 the lock, erected by the State, was destroyed by excavations for the present Poe lock, which is the largest in the world. It is 800 feet long and 100 feet wide with a water depth of 22 feet on the sill.

The Welland lock, which was made necessary by the increased traffic and is still in operation, is 535 feet long. The traffic by way of the Soo canal, American and Canadian, during 1904, was 32,000,000 net tons, 27,000,000 of which was through the American canal. The traffic of the Suez canal in 1904 was 12,000,000 net tons. This represented a large part of the commerce of Europe with Asia, and some of that between the United States and Asia.

The Soo canal has developed the vast mineral wealth of the Lake Superior region, and has furnished a cheap and convenient outlet for the transportation of grain, flour and other products to the East and to Europe. It has helped to build up great industrial centers at Detroit, Cleveland and Buffalo, has aided in making Pittsburg the greatest iron and steel center in the world and has contributed materially towards giving the United States primacy in the production of iron, steel and copper.

Another lock must be built and the ship canal above the locks must be widened because of the great development of the grain and ore traffic in the Northwest.
